Demonstrations In France Against Food Cuts, Costs

PARIS (Reuter)—New demonstrations were staged throughout France today as workers made further protests against the cuts in the bread ration, the general food situation and the high cost of living.

More than 10,000 employees of the Cherbourg arsenal and of local industries marched through the city market during a two-hour protest strike. They manhandled a peasant and expressed disapproval of the demonstration, and seized two calves and 22 young pigs which they led to a slaughterhouse.

Trolley cars lay idle and businesses closed in Bordeaux to allow 25,000 workers to hold a protest meeting, at which they asked for an increased bread ration and energetic measures to stop rising prices of meat, potatoes and dried vegetables.

3,000 IN PARADE

In Lille, 3,000 demonstrators, including textile and metal workers, marched through the streets calling for more and cheaper food.

Several thousand housewives joined other thousands of workers in the main square of Toulouse to listen to spokesmen of the Labor Confederation.

A few incidents broke out during a similar demonstration in Limoges, when 15,000 workers marched to the prefecture shouting "Down with the prefect! Down with (Premier) Ramadier!" Unloading of ships was suspended at La Pallice, the port of La Rochelle, when dock workers struck in protest against lack of food.

2 Bodies Stuffed In Trunk Of Auto; Murder Charged

TORONTO (CP)—A man and woman found crammed in the luggage compartment of the man's automobile were "murdered," Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson said today.

His finding at an autopsy ended speculation over the lovers' late deaths of George Vigus, 39, and Iris Scott, 21, dead 24 hours when the bodies were found crammed into the compartment of the car early today. Police previously had probed possibility of a suicide pact.

Police said they believed the married man and the girl were murdered elsewhere, the bodies were stuffed in the car and driven to High Park in the west end of the city where they were found.

Dr. Lawson said the autopsy showed bruises on Vigus' throat, indicating he had been throttled as with a rope. There were two bad bruises on the girl's chin and what appeared to be finger marks on her throat as if she, too, had been throttled.

The parking lot just off a busy thoroughfare in the west-central section of the huge park is used frequently by couples in cars and Thursday night several parked there unaware of the grisly contents of the nearby automobile.

Detective-Sergt. Tinsley said Miss Scott roomed in a house on Erskine Ave. in Toronto and identified the vehicle as belonging to Vigus a paper box factory foreman.

To Investigate Trading In Eldona

TORONTO (CP)—T. P. O'Connor, senior solicitor for the Ontario Securities Commission, said today the commission will proceed "probably Monday" with an investigation of transactions in shares of Eldona Gold Mines.

Authority to investigate was obtained from the Ontario Attorney-General's Department.

The inquiry will seek to establish whether or not there was illegal trading in Eldona shares. Eldona trading has been marked during the last three weeks by wide fluctuations on the stock exchange.

During the three weeks, between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 shares have been traded, records show. From a low of 30 cents, Eldona climbed to $2.70 within a week. Pressure sent the stock down to the $1 mark Thursday and the issue closed last night at $1.15.

Town Planners' Choice For City Hall Site

The grassy slopes of the southwest corner of Pembroke and Quadra Streets, back of the Memorial Arena will hold the new City Hall if members of the Town Planning Commission have their way. This was the unanimous choice of the commission at its last meeting. Members stressed it was the only piece of city-owned property close enough to the centre of town which is large enough to hold an adequate City Hall and provide a park setting for the new building. They discarded the site at Blanshard and Pandora as not large enough to landscape, and also as not having parking facilities nearby. The old Savory estate at Cook and Pembroke Streets was second choice of the town planners. The electors will be given a choice of the proposed sites at the December elections, at the same time as they decide on whether or not the present city hall site is to be leased for a $4,000,000 hotel and the hall demolished.

British Factories Told To Increase Exportable Goods Supply By One-Third

LONDON (CP)—British manufacturers and workmen were told today they had to raise Britain's supplies of goods for export by one-third monthly, £31,000,000 ($124,000,000), that new cuts are to be made in the United Kingdom's armed forces and that slashes are to be made in permitted capital investments.

The three-way announcement in the government's program to stave off economic collapse was announced by Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade and nicknamed the cabinet's "Apostle of Austerity."

AUDIENCE OF 2,000

He was speaking to an assembly of 2,000, representative of management and labor in industry, and the press.

Compulsion would be used if necessary, he hinted, to achieve the industrial target.

"The extra volume of imports represented by £31,000,000 a month is something that we must achieve at the very earliest moment possible," he said, "otherwise we shall be unable to supply ourselves with enough food and raw materials to keep our production going and that will mean the collapse of our efforts."

Sir Stafford, latest spokesman in the government's campaign to rouse the country to "the Battle of the Gap"—the gap being that between imports and exports—warned that the consumer market would suffer further shortages.

Throughout his speech he emphasized there would be as little compulsion as possible.

INCREASE TO U.S.

Exports will be directed "to those countries from which we must draw our major supplies"—notably North America. There also will be a "measure of direction" in the supply of components for export goods.

"We do not propose... to introduce industrial conscription unless it is proved there is no other way out."

Cabinet Debates Canada's Stand In U.N. For 5½ Hours

By ROSS MUNRO
OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's role in the forthcoming United Nations' Assembly was believed to be one of the topics discussed at a 5½ hour cabinet meeting here Thursday—one of the longest the council has held since the days of the conscription crisis in 1944.

While there was no indication of what was discussed during the lengthy session, the question of Canada's activities in the United Nations is one of the most urgent matters of the moment. With Canada expected to be chosen a non-permanent member of the U.N. Security Council, informed speculation has been that either Dana Wilgress, former ambassador to Russia, or Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton might represent Canada in the council.

Meanwhile, the Canadian delegation headed by External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, prepared to head for the opening of the General Assembly next Tuesday with definite ideas on various international issues—including the contentious veto power.

While Canada dislikes the veto principle and more than ever in practice, her representatives at the New York meeting, in the first instance at least, may not take a strong line in the veto crisis.

Feeling this may be no time to go to the mat on the veto issue, the delegation likely will not urge constitutional amendment to the United Nations charter, but will advocate, as Canada did last fall, that the big powers use the veto with restraint and in the interests of the United Nations as a whole.

DISINTEGRATION POSSIBLE

In the Canadian view, a showdown on the veto could possibly result in a breakup of the United Nations' organization.

There is widespread concern in all countries about the present difficulties enveloping the U.N., and Canada shares this concern, although it is tempered by a restrained optimism that the organization will eventually pass through its youthful troubles and achieve the desired permanency.

In this attitude, the 17-member Canadian delegation will leave Ottawa Saturday for New York for this second session of the General Assembly, which is expected to last about three months.

LONDON (Reuter)—Detailed targets for Britain's exports announced today by Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade, show Britain will seek to export manufactured goods of all kinds at the rate of $115,900,000 ($463,600,000) by the end of 1948. This would be 188 per cent of manufactured exports in 1938.

Bureau Labels Atlantic Storm 'Very Dangerous'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Atlantic storm became a full-fledged hurricane with roaring 143-mile-an-hour winds today, the United States weather bureau reported at 12:45 p.m. It was classed as "very dangerous."

An army plane pierced the disturbance and found its centre at 8:45 a.m. at latitude 17.8 north, longitude 59.3 west, with very heavy rain and severe turbulence.

Barometric pressure at the centre had dropped to 28.85 inches.

A navy hurricane hunter prepared to fly into the disturbance later today to determine temperatures and vertical air blasts as a part of the research into a plan to "bust" hurricanes with dry ice and other chemicals.

Norman Whittaker Appointed Judge Of B.C. Supreme Court

MR. JUSTICE WHITTAKER

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Isley today announced seven appointments to the bench, including the appointment of Hon. Norman W. Whittaker, Speaker of the Legislature, and Herbert S. Wood, police magistrate in Vancouver, to the Supreme Court of B.C. One of them fills a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Justice Andrew M. Harper and the other fills a new judgeship post created at the last session of Parliament.

Hon. J. H. MacQuarrie, attorney-general for Nova Scotia, has been appointed to the Supreme Court of that province. He fills a vacancy created by the death of Mr. Justice John S. Smiley.

Vincent J. Pottier of Yarmouth, N.S., has been appointed judge of the County Court of Halifax to succeed Judge R. H. Murray, who retired.

In Manitoba, Mr. Justice A. K. Dysart of Court of King's Bench has been appointed to the Court of Appeals to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Justice W. H. Trueman. A. C. Campbell of Winnipeg was appointed to succeed Mr. Justice Dysart in the Court of King's Bench.

In Quebec, Hector Perrier of Montreal has been appointed to fill the Superior Court vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Justice A. Forest.

The appointments were made effective as from yesterday.

Appointment of Mr. Whittaker to the British Columbia Supreme Court will necessitate a by-election in the Saanich constituency to name a new member for the B.C. Legislature, and the appointment of a new Speaker in the Legislature. Appointment of the Speaker will probably not be formally announced until the convening of the Legislature, normally in the spring.

Mr. Whittaker served as Liberal member for Saanich since 1933, having been elected during the Liberal landslide which brought about the defeat of the Conservative government headed by Dr. S. F. Tolmie. Mr. Whittaker himself defeated Dr. Tolmie.

Succeeding H. G. T. Perry who became Minister of Education, Mr. Whittaker has served as Speaker of the B.C. Legislature since 1937.

Born in Kamloops on Nov. 18, 1893, the new justice attended public school in Saanich and high school in Toronto. Returning to Victoria in 1911 he was articled to the office of Tait, Brandon and Hall, barristers and solicitors. Later he continued his apprenticeship in law under H. S. Pringle, formerly city solicitor for Victoria.

The date of the hearing will be announced later.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has demanded the "immediate release" by Yugoslavia of nine British and American military personnel seized by the Yugoslavs in the vicinity of Trieste.

The State Department said today the demand was made in a "vigorous protest" to the Yugoslav government against the "unwarranted detention and maltreatment" of 14 British and United States military personnel, five of whom already have been released.

The American note was presented to the Yugoslav Foreign Office Thursday night.

Among those reported still held by the Yugoslavs are seven Britons and two Americans.

All were seized near Trieste where Yugoslav, U.S. and British soldiers are occupying this former Italian territory, soon to be internationalized under the United Nations.

NOTE FROM BRITAIN

The State Department said it understood the British Government had taken or would take similar action.

Lincoln White, the department press officer, gave this breakdown concerning the nine persons still in Yugoslav hands:

1. Aug. 2—Three British soldiers of the 2nd South Lancashire regiment arrested in the Albano Vescova area while on patrol.

2. Aug. 9—A U.S. army officer and army technician "forcibly seized" while fishing in the Osongo River near Plezzo.

3. Aug. 21—Two British seamen from the ship Ajax "apprehended" near the Pola area after entering Zone B on their own initiative. Zone B is the Yugoslav-controlled zone.

4. Aug. 21—Two British soldiers seized by Yugoslavs in the same general area.

FIVE BRITONS RELEASED

The State Department's note said five British riflemen of Company "A", First Battalion, Royal Rifle Corps, were seized June 16 and returned three days later.

The note said that while in Yugoslav hands they suffered "serious maltreatment," making it necessary to put all five in hospital with gastro-enteritis and typhoid fever because of "bad food and water" given them during confinement. It said they were confined in a room lacking sanitary facilities.

The note said these and the others were "detained without justifiable reason."

Serious Meat Shortages Likely As Strike Spreads

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

More than 8,000 packinghouse workers were on strike across Canada today and new walkouts were expected to boost the total to almost 11,000 by tonight.

Settlement attempts apparently were making no headway and it appeared certain the strike would continue to spread, creating a serious meat shortage in most parts of the Dominion.

The strike total climbed to 8,270 with early morning walkouts by 1,200 Canadian Packers Ltd. employees in Winnipeg and 500 Burns & Company workers in Calgary.

Walkouts scheduled for the end of day-shift operations today were these: 1,900 Canada Packers employees in Toronto; 400 Burns employees at Kitchener, Ont., and 300 Canada Packers employees at Hull, Que. They will increase the total to 10,870.

COUNTRY-WIDE BASIS

An Ontario government bid seemed doomed to failure by insistence of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) upon conciliation or arbitration on a Dominion-wide basis.

Nation-wide conciliation would entail waiving by the provinces of their jurisdiction over labor matters temporarily and there was little indication this waiver would be forthcoming.

Nor did union officials look with favor on the condition in the Ontario settlement plan that workers now on strike return to work while matters in dispute were placed before an arbitrator or conciliator.

The plan, worked out Thursday night by the Ontario Department of Labor and accepted by Canada Packers and Burns and Company—two of the companies involved in the strike—was discussed by union officers at Toronto Thursday night, but a union official said the proposed formula was unacceptable.

The union's demand for a basic minimum wage of 92 cents an hour, or an average increase of 17 cents an hour, has been countered by offers from Canada Packers and Burns of a five-cent boost and from Swift of a three-cent increase.

Meanwhile, predictions of meat shortages and other repercussions poured in from many points. At Ottawa, some government meat authorities forecast a blanket disappearance of meat within two weeks, if the Dominion-wide walkout continued. In Edmonton, Vancouver and Calgary a stampede of housewives Thursday depleted retail stocks, forcing many butchers to close by noon.

10% Business Tax Would Net $300,000 City Council Told

In order to obtain the present revenue from trade licenses of $140,000 a business tax of 4½ per cent would have to be imposed by the city of Victoria it was reported to today's City Council meeting by A. J. Patton, city solicitor, and J. H. B. Watson, assistant comptroller-treasurer.

If the 10 per cent business tax suggested by the Vancouver Board of Trade were imposed it would bring the city a revenue of approximately $300,000 the two officials reported.

In making their estimate they used rentals known from representative business establishments in selected parts of the city, and said they felt the result was a close approximation of what could be expected.

In 36 establishments, gross annual rental was $141,137, and trade license fees paid by these businesses was $6,335.

The implementation of business tax will be one of the main items discussed at the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in Harrison Hot Springs next week, and the executive is recommending to the convention that the province be asked to make its imposition mandatory on all municipalities.

Rail Board Orders Public Probe Of Dugald Crash That Killed 31

OTTAWA (CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners announced today that it had decided to hold a public hearing in Winnipeg to inquire into the cause of the recent railway accident at Dugald, Man., which took 31 lives.

The date of the hearing will be announced later.

The board said that Sept. 2, the day following the head-on collision of the two Canadian National Railways' passenger trains, three of the board's inspectors from Winnipeg made an investigation.

Preliminary detailed reports by the inspectors have been made to the board.

No Price Increases For Housing Lumber

OTTAWA (CP)—Prices Board officials said today there were no plans to raise price ceilings on lumber used in the building of homes.

They were commenting on a Vancouver dispatch which quoted lumber operators there as saying they had received reports that a 25 per cent increase would go into effect.

Europe Must Learn To Help Itself, Says World Bank Head

LONDON (AP)—John J. McCloy, president of the World Bank, said today major bottlenecks remaining in the reconstruction of Europe are "food, fuel, and manpower."

In the second annual report presented to the bank's board of governors, McCloy stated: "Europe itself must make the major contribution to the solution of all of these problems... outside assistance is vital, but it represents a small percentage of the total effort."

FINANCIAL STABILITY

One of the most important steps "is the restoration of financial stability to the extent such stability can be achieved through a balanced budget of current expenditures, a sound and equitable tax system, and the curtailment so far as possible of unproductive governmental expenditures."

Financial reform might be achieved through the following steps:

1. Establishment of an international panel of skilled and impartial technicians to investigate and make recommendations.
2. Integration of European reconstruction and production programs on a regional basis.
3. Gradual removal or lowering of the trade barriers which now hinder the free international flow of goods.
4. Prompt utilization of the productive facilities of Germany for the benefit of the over-all European economy.

"If European coal production could be increased to prewar levels, a large part of Europe's production problem would be on its way to solution, and an unnecessary drain upon its dollar resources would be removed."

LOANABLE DOLLARS

McCloy pointed out that the bank's entire stock of loanable United States dollars was represented by $727,075,000 of capital paid in the United States. In addition the Belgian government has authorized permission to lend the equivalent of $2,000,000 in Belgian francs out of Belgian paid-in capital.

Reporting on operations, McCloy said the bank thus far had made four loans: France $250,000,000, the Netherlands $195,000,000, Denmark $40,000,000, Luxembourg $12,000,000. Applications for loans are pending from: Chile $40,000,000, Czechoslovakia $350,000,000, Iran $250,000,000, Mexico $209,000,000, Poland $600,000,000.

New Neck Operation Helps Relieve Palsy

NEW YORK (AP)—People with shaking hands and limbs so weak they are nearly paralyzed from palsy, and those who cannot move arms and legs without making a series of jerks are getting some relief from a new "neck operation" described by the American College of Surgeons here today.

Strangely enough this operation really affects not the neck but the brain. It was reported by Dr. Averill Stowell of Cleveland.

All these conditions are caused by atrophy in some part of the brain. Surgery has been tried with some success in the brain to relieve palsy, but most of the conditions are incurable.

Dr. Stowell's operation severs a number of neck nerves whose job is to control the tension of arteries carrying blood to the

Labor Party Wins By-election With Reduced Majority

LIVERPOOL (CP)—The Labor government, which has not lost a seat in a Parliamentary by-election since it gained power two years ago, won Thursday by a reduced majority the important Liverpool working-class constituency of Edgehill. Maj. A. J. Irvine, a London lawyer, was elected by a margin of 2,000 votes over Conservative candidate Reginald Bevins. Three other candidates trailed far behind.

This was the result: A. J. Irvine, Labor, 10,827; Reginald Bevins, Conservative, 8,874; Sir Hubert Young, Liberal, 910; David Gibson, Independent-Labor, 154; Cyril Foster, Independent, 48.

The vacancy was caused by the death in May of Dr. Richard Clithrow, who served with the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in Canada from 1919 to 1922.

Labor's margin was cut almost one-third. In the 1945 general election Dr. Clithrow was elected with a comfortable majority of 6,039 votes in a poll of some 20,000.

Thursday's by-election was watched closely as a test of public reaction to the government's handling of the economic crisis. The Conservatives had brought up their big guns to break the government's hold. Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the Conservatives, interrupted his holiday in Ireland to address Edgehill voters Tuesday.

Labor also conducted an all-out campaign until the last minute. Foreign Secretary Bevin strongly backed Irvine. In a telegram to the Liverpool area secretary of the Transport and General Workers' Union, of which Bevin once was general secretary, he stressed that before the war there was heavy unemployment in Liverpool and said gains had been made by Labor's "persistent efforts."

"It used to be a common sight to see as many as 50 per cent of my old friends unemployed at the docks. Do not let us go back to that again," he said.

The by-election was the 28th since the 1945 general election. In all these contests the Labor Party has held its Commons seats and the Conservatives have held theirs.

In the past, no political party has stayed in office longer than one year without losing a Commons seat in a by-election.

(It was only the second time the Liberals had had a candidate in Edgehill since the riding was established.)

brain. All this tension stops when the neck nerves are severed. The arteries enlarge and the brain receives more blood.

The extra blood gives relief. Dr. Stowell said the patients become happier, they can move with less loss of the sense of feeling and their minds become keener.

A plastic, waxy in color and thin as tissue paper, was reported by the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn., as a new and improved lining for human brains. The natural brain lining is often partially lost in accidents and surgical operations.

For substitutes surgeons have used gold, silver, platinum, tantalum, membranes from body tissues and plastics made from human blood plasma.

Farben Blocked Move To Improve Chemical Industry Of Russia

NUERNBERG (AP)—The I. G. Farben trust blocked a move by Russia to improve its chemical industry with German help on the strength of the non-aggression pact signed with Hitler in 1939. It was disclosed today at the Farben war crimes trial.

How the Farben chiefs frowned on the proposal during the period when Hitler and Stalin were negotiating with each other was revealed in a document obtained from the Farben files by U.S. prosecutors conducting the trial of 23 directors of the huge trust.

According to the documents, a delegation from Moscow in November, 1939, sought expert help to build a Russian chemical industry. Negotiations were undertaken, but they never amounted to anything after barriers were set up against giving the Soviet Union any information.

The document which revealed the situation was signed by two of the defendants at the present trial—Fritz Ter Meer, Farben chemical expert, and Otto Ambros, head of Farben's Buna (synthetic rubber) works at Auschwitz (Oswiecim).

The two directors pointed out that Russia already had become a large-scale producer of butadiene—a base for synthetic rubber—and commented that it was "of satisfactory quality."

"An inspection of our continuous polymerization method and the finishing process would therefore provide them with such extensive information that they could possibly do without us."

Farben also recommended that if any help were given to the Russians by Hitler, it should be stipulated that the products so yielded be used by the Russians only within their domestic economy with a ban on shipment abroad.

No Federal Aid Wanted In Quebec To Solve Strikes

MONTREAL (CP)—Cyprien Miron, chief conciliator of the Quebec provincial department of labor, said Thursday night that "the Quebec government will be able to handle any labor dispute which may arise, including the meat-packing strike, without assistance from federal authorities."

Mr. Miron made his statement after the labor department had taken a hand in the strike of 1,500 packinghouse workers in three major Montreal plants by calling a conference of union chiefs for today. Arrangements were made for the slaughter of 2,000 hogs at small abattoirs outside the city as Montreal consumers were assured by the department that plenty of fresh pork will be obtainable by the week-end.

"We have provincial labor laws which can, must, and will be applied without hesitation... and the representatives of the United Packinghouse Workers will be informed of these laws when and if I meet with them," said the chief conciliator.

He stated further that Modern Packers Ltd. was operating only in the province of Quebec and thus could not be considered a "national industry." Regarding the three other companies involved, Canada Packers Ltd., Wilsil Ltd. and Swift Canadian Ltd., Mr. Miron said the difference in working conditions, standard of living and type of work of these plants in the various provinces of Canada had to be considered in order to appreciate fully the importance of provincial laws and the reason for their existence.

Mr. Miron's announcement followed closely reports from Montreal union leaders that they would not take any orders to end the walkout from the department of labor. Union spokesmen said they would insist on their former statements in which they maintained that the meat-packing industry was "a national industry" and should therefore be governed by federal labor laws rather than provincial legislation.

The meeting, sponsored by the C.C.F., marked the close of the second commonwealth conference of labor parties.

Mr. Phillips told the cheering audience that Thursday's Labor victory in the Liverpool by-election proved the public wanted the party. "Never before in British politics has any party lived two years without losing a by-election."

Mr. Phillips denied the Labor government's planned economy had meant loss of freedom to the individual worker, giving as proof the Yorkshire coal miners' strike.

M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader, said he knew "of no country more ridden by monopolistic capital than Canada. We have to supplant it with peoples' organizations to build the foundation of the greatest society of our time."

Defence counsel A. H. Fleishman indicated he would appeal the verdict that followed the three-day trial.

Johnson was arrested a few hours after the body of the attractive 27-year-old woman had been found lying in Stanley Park.

Police said she had been beaten, strangled and criminally assaulted.

Testimony submitted at the hearing showed that Mrs. Burton, Johnson and another couple had gone for a walk in the park late at night. Johnson maintained that he had left his companion, also an employee of the bakery firm, in the park about 2.30 a.m. on the morning of July 22 and taken a taxi home.

The dead were William Gibbons, 26, and Toivo Bloomquist, 30. Holcomb said the battle climaxed months of ill-feeling.

He said Seals admitted the shootings, adding that Seals asserted he had been attacked, Gibbons wielding a hatchet and Bloomquist a bottle.

The fight was in Seals' cabin, where the other two had been waiting for him, Holcomb said. A year ago Seals reported an attempt had been made by the two men to ambush him. He said one had a gun, but he escaped by throwing an overcoat over one of them, then leaping over an embankment to hide in the darkness, Holcomb said.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Traffic and Safety Council has announced the possibility of inaugurating a course in automobile driving instruction as part of regular classwork curriculum in high schools here.

LONDON (CP)—Executive directors of the International Monetary Fund indicated in their annual report today they believe the United States and Canada should extend additional credits to the United Kingdom and other countries to assist them in their economic reconstruction.

The report, presented to the current meetings of the International Monetary Fund and International Bank in London, said:

"While the task is largely one of self-help for the devastated and dislocated countries, the goods which the western hemisphere may supply have an importance much greater than is indicated by their quantity. A continuance of the flow of vital imports is necessary to enable the countries engaged in reconstruction to utilize fully their own productive resources."

"This may mean the difference between an economic system with chronic deficiency in the domestic and international field and an economic system producing and trading on an efficient and profitable basis. A world shackled with deficiency economies would inevitably generate restrictions and discriminations in international trade and payments whose evil consequences would leave no country untouched."

"It is apparent that if the goods needed for completion of reconstruction are to be made available it will be necessary for governments to extend additional aid beyond what the International Bank can provide..."

"If reconstruction is not completed, the constructive efforts already made for international co-operation to attain greater production and higher standards of living will be jeopardized. Economically sick areas are a menace to stability and prosperity everywhere."

CREDITS USED QUICKLY

The report said that credits already extended to devastated countries in Europe and the Far East were being used at a more rapid rate than had been anticipated because of higher prices and a greater dependence on imports of food and coal. The credits likely would all be exhausted by the end of this year.

The report said approximately $13,000,000,000 has been advanced since the end of the war to assist in the reconstruction of European and Far Eastern countries. About $9,300,000,000 had been furnished by the United States, $1,800,000,000 by Canada, $1,100,000,000 by the United Kingdom and $500,000,000 by Sweden.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Donald F. Teddie, 55, signals operator at Dugald, Man., scene of the Labor Day collision of two Canadian National Railway trains, has been released on $4,000 bail after having been held on a coroner's warrant as a material witness since the time of the wreck, it was announced here. He will testify at the coroner's inquest, likely to be held early next week.

Charge Of Murder Against Indian; No Body Found Yet

COCHRANE, Ont. (CP)—Ontario Provincial Police said Thursday David Rock, 40-year-old Ojibway Indian, has been charged with murder in the death of his brother, Jim, who disappeared last year but whose body has not been located.

Two officers left today by plane for La Sarre district about 90 miles east of here and just east of the Ontario-Quebec border. Jim Rock's body is reported to be buried there.

Police said David Rock will appear in magistrate's court tomorrow on the murder charge. They declined to discuss details of the case, although Inspector A. MacDougall said there would be a statement after the return of the two officers.

In Toronto, Provincial Police headquarters said any statement on the case would have to come from Cochrane.

Police here disclosed they also are investigating the death in 1938 of an elderly man whose body was found near his cabin that year. Several ferocious dogs kept by the man had eaten part of the body. Police did not disclose the reason for reopening of this case and said they were not prepared to reveal any possible connection between the two deaths.

Record Membership In Canadian Unions, Mitchell Reports

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian workers, emphasizing the trend towards stronger security and representation, set a record in trade union membership in 1946 with a total of 831,697, Labor Minister Mitchell announced Thursday. This compared with 724,188 in 1944, the previous record, and 711,117 in 1945.

In a summary of the 36th annual report on labor organizations in Canada, Mr. Mitchell said the metal industries commanded the largest single industry with 19.3 per cent of the grand total.

Of the total membership, 778,244 were banded in four national and international organizations. The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada reported a total of 356,121 members; the Canadian Congress of Labor 314,025; the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor 70,367; the Independent International Railway Brotherhoods 37,731.

Reports submitted by 3,846 of 4,635 known branches, showed Ontario leading with 236,729 members. Quebec was second with 203,546; and British Columbia third with 99,466. Manitoba registered 38,681; Alberta, 33,662; Saskatchewan, 21,756; Northwest Territories, 365; and the Yukon Territory, 249.

As to cities, Montreal placed other communities with a membership of 117,095. Toronto was second with 70,757 and Vancouver third with 53,882 members.

In industrial centres Winnipeg reported 29,869 members; Edmonton, 11,804; Calgary, 9,156; Victoria, 8,134.

Butter Tops Dollar In New York Stores

NEW YORK (AP)—Butter sold at $1.05 Thursday in some New York stores, and at 90 to 96 cents in others, but everywhere clerks told worried housewives, "It'll be higher tomorrow."

Wholesale prices jumped 2½ cents a pound. A leading grocery chain, which held its price at 90 cents today, said, "That means we'll have to raise it tomorrow."

U.S. Army Aircraft Crashes, Killing 3

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A U.S. army C-47 twin-engine cargo plane with a crew of three aboard crashed 30 miles south of Denver early today, public relations officers at Lowry Field reported.

They said the three were killed when the transport crashed into Spruce Mountain, near the town of Castle Rock.

Wreckage of the aircraft was found by Sheriff John Hammond, who said the plane struck a sheer rock bluff.

Find Body In River, Probe Murder Angle

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—A coyote-eaten body found by an American fisherman on a Thompson River sandbar, 40 miles west of here Monday, was Thursday tentatively identified as that of Dalip Singh of Vancouver. He had been missing since Aug. 5, when he was seen in Salmon Arm.

A hint that a murder angle is being investigated by B.C. Provincial Police was given by Dr. J. S. Burris, the coroner, at an inquest today. The contents of the skull are to be chemically analyzed to determine whether poison was the cause of death.

Only the legs are complete; the rest of the body being nothing but bones. It is impossible to use standard tests of the vital organs to find out whether poison was used.

The body was found by H. W. Wells of Mount Vernon, Wash., here on a fishing trip. Identification was made from water-soaked papers in a wallet. The wallet also contained about a dollar in small change.

The inquest is to resume Sept. 18 if possible, but it was indicated it will probably be at least a fortnight before the chemical analysis of the brain content is complete.

Maritime Unionists Vote To Suspend Publishing Paper

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP)—Executive of District 26, United Mine Workers, today read final results of a referendum in which union members voted 2 to 1 to suspend publication of the Glace Bay Gazette, the only daily newspaper owned by organized labor in Canada, and to pass up a district convention this year.

An affirmative vote on either issue would have meant additional assessments on the coal men's pay cheques.

The executive pondered in silence the future of the newspaper and whether elimination of a convention would preclude strike action in the union's demand for a $1.10 a day pay boost.

Though union ranks numbered 13,000, circulation of the Gazette had been about 4,000 since the Maritime coal strike ended in June. Of the 15 locals—representing half the number in the district—which reported totals Thursday night, three in the Glace Bay area had voted for continuation of the Gazette.

Of 5,022 votes tallied, 3,362 answered "no" to the question of continued subsidization of the daily. Balloting results on the second issues were nearly identical.

Editor Floyd Gates of the Gazette, though making no positive reply on the eight-page daily's future, said "I feel certain that outsiders of anti-labor mind who have shown considerable interest in its purchase may be disappointed."

The union purchased the publication in 1942 for $20,000. It operated at an average annual deficit of $13,000, but a greater loss was predicted this year.

Soviet Opposition May Prove Blessing In Disguise To U.S.

WASHINGTON (CP)—Russia's uncompromising stand against the western democracies on so many vital issues may prove a blessing in disguise.

It is having the effect of slowing, and perhaps preventing, a return of the United States people to a feeling of complacency and the more or less natural isolationism which contributed so much to early successes of aggressors in two world wars.

One of the most significant results of Russian belligerency in world councils is the awareness in high business and industrial circles of the world situation.

Heretofore United States business interests were content to leave foreign affairs entirely to the State Department and diplomatic corps.

MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS

Now the powerful national organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers and kindred organizations have their committees on international affairs and are making continuous recommendations to Congress and the administration.

But for the well-planned and unyielding policy of the Soviet countries to make the most of the world unrest which followed the shooting war, the United States undoubtedly would not be well along the way to forgetfulness of the responsibilities fate has thrown upon it as a world power.

The chief pre-occupation of official Washington has been and will continue to be the steps that must be taken by this country to assist the democratic nations in the preservation of their principles against the inroads of Communism.

Because of this new awareness among the powerful and new figures who control the mighty industrial and business organizations of the United States, the Marshall plan for helping the war-torn countries to help themselves has been generally accepted.

CONGRESS TO VOTE

It will mean pouring billions of dollars' worth of U.S. goods and of cash into the hands of foreign governments and the plan still has to receive the approval of Congress.

But thanks to the atmosphere of uncertainty created by Russia's attitude, this proposal—which a few years ago would have damned any administration that advanced it—now is likely to go through with only token opposition.

So the formulation and admin-

CBC News Editor Returns To Work

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Augustin Frigon, general manager of the CBC, announced Thursday D.C. McArthur, who resigned recently as chief news editor, has requested that his resignation be reconsidered and will continue in that position.

In a 200-word statement referring to the three recent resignations from the CBC, Dr. Frigon said of Mr. McArthur:

"Realizing that his somewhat precipitate action was based on a misconception, he has expressed his regret and requested his resignation be reconsidered. It has been agreed that he will continue in his present position as chief news editor."

istration of U.S. foreign policy has become a matter of lively interest to big business; and this fact may result in a sudden and welcome change of attitude on the part of Russia in the near future.

NO CHANGE IN EDGE HILL

YESTERDAY'S VERDICT OF THE ELECtors in the important Edge Hill division of Liverpool may not have surprised those in close touch with Labor's political machinery in the great Lancashire seaport community.
Opponents of the present administration at Westminster were nevertheless hoping that the economic condition of the nation might find some practical manifestation at this by-election. No doubt some of the more ardent anti-Socialist elements thought that a five-way fight would substantially weaken the chances of success of the Attlee government's nominee. Others, too, had probably begun to feel that the chain of Labor victories at the polls since the general election of 1945 was about due for a break. These hopes did not materialize.
Nor would the unsuccessful candidates be able to extract much comfort from the fact that the victorious ministerial standard-bearer on this occasion had to content himself with a majority of approximately 2,000 in comparison with a trifle more than 6,000 which his predecessor, the late Dr. Richard Clithrow, ran up in the summer of two years ago. Here are the figures: A. J. Irvine, Lab., 10,827; Reginald Bevin, Cons., 8,874; Sir Hubert Young, Lib., 910; David Gibson, Ind.-Lab., 154; Cyril Foster, Ind., 48.

Just how much importance should be attached to this substantial reduction in majority is highly conjectural—especially when viewed from this distance. Edge Hill is essentially "working-class" in its political nomenclature; and this is only the second time in the long history of the constituency that other than a Laborite and a Conservative have fought it out at the ballot box, the first being in 1929, when the Socialist polled 17,650, the Conservative 11,622, and the Liberal 2,581. The standard-bearer of the latter's party, therefore, fared even worse than did the Liberal 18 years ago. Those who had hoped that the division of ballots between a quintette of aspirants might seriously influence the final decision now know that Major A. J. Irvine, the London lawyer who wore the government's "favours," actually polled $41 more than his four opponents combined.

What can be said of yesterday's contest, however, is that both the cabinet and the official opposition left nothing to chance.
Mr. Eden broke into a holiday in Ireland to take part. To what extent his personal charm and impressive persuasiveness contributed to the reduced government majority is likewise conjectural. And Mr. Bevin fired his big gun. But if the deputy House leader of the Conservative Party is disappointed with the result, how must the Liberals feel as they note the pitiable showing of their candidate—who, of course, will forfeit his deposit along with the two Independents who seem to have been almost unnoticed on the ballot paper? The verdict at this by-election, as in others, obviously suggests that Britain does not propose to add to her other difficulties by cluttering up the House of Commons with representatives of a multiplicity of parties.
How far the Left and the Right in the present Parliament will slide back and forth along the political measuring rule in the crucial days to come, incidentally, only the course of events will reveal. As matters stand at present the issue is clear. The fight is between the party led by Mr. Churchill and the administration under the leadership of Mr. Attlee. And the latter can point to the fact that his government has not yet lost a single by-election—a post-general election condition unparalleled since the days of Disraeli.

FULLY ANSWERED

PRIME MINISTER MACKENZIE KING, who is well into his twenty-first year of leadership in that office, will be pardoned if by now he should become a trifle tired of answering the invariable question of news reporters as to when he is going to retire.
Mr. King intimated in the course of the 1945 general election that he would not likely take personal part in another contest, but such an intention would still leave him until 1950 to carry out the duties of his high office. Guesses as to the possible date on which the 72-year-old leader will lay down the reins of government have whirled away many hours for the political experts of all parties, including the Prime Minister's own organization, and estimates have provided reams of copy for Ottawa correspondents on dull days in the Press Gallery. Nor have Mr. King's colleagues been loath to hazard a prediction, coupled with surmises as to the probable successor of the man who has led the Canadian Liberal party for 28 years.

His retirement, when Mr. King sees fit to announce it, will certainly be political news of a high order in this country. But there is little point in posing the question every time the Prime Minister turns around or leaves the capital for a few days. Unseemly interest on the part of politicians opposed to Mr. King's policies will not hurry the date, and the people of this country have adequately demonstrated their opinion, since the return of the Liberal Party to power in 1935, that the longer the news is postponed the better they will like it. The Government leader's reply yesterday to a Canadian Press query as to his retirement plans was one which will engender wide satisfaction. Said Mr. King: "I am just going to keep right on working." That answer should satisfy all but those with axes to grind.

COMMENDABLE MODERATION

WHILE VICTORIA FAMILIES VIEWED with some apprehension the continuance of packing house strikes that are reducing available supplies of meat, burghers of this capital had one point on which to congratulate themselves. The obvious difficulties arising from the work stoppages did not stampede housewives into panic buying yesterday. As a result, the scarcity of available goods was not intensified by abnormal demand.

Maintenance of this moderate attitude could conceivably see Victoria through the difficulties without any very serious injury. By voluntary curtailment of their normal requirements—if such a course becomes necessary—purchasers can reduce possible hardships to themselves. In Vancouver, according to a late dispatch, the rush of consumers quickly stripped the counters of some of the smaller retail meat dealers. A similar hysteria could have the same results in inconvenience here.

The dispute between the packing house operators and their employees is, of course, an issue in which the general public is vitally interested. Here, if it should continue long enough, would be a "hunger strike" from the immediate results of which only the farmer, who produces for his own consumption, and the vegetarian, could escape. The points to be kept in mind, pending settlement, are those apparently observed by housewives yesterday—hysteria will only increase hardships—and large supplies of meat can be kept for only a limited time in the average home.

USELESS HERITAGE

THE AVERAGE CANADIAN, TAKING note of agitations and resolutions by various groups of European-origin domiciled in this country importuning the Dominion government to take action against another group of opposing views, is moved to say, "A plague on both your houses. You should leave your homeland squabbles where they originated and get on with the business of becoming real Canadians." The ideological struggle among Right, Centre and Left which characterizes the politics of the world today has provided a happy hunting ground for these elements of our population—a sphere in which they may continue the interminable squabbles and racial bickering which have made the Balkans and other European sore spots a source of trouble for generations.

We in this part of Canada are less subject to such strife than other areas of the prairies and the east. We have our Doukhobor problem, based essentially in obscure religious controversy.
However, the central provinces have their perpetual political feud between Ukrainian groups, and Ontario is in the throes of an internal Yugoslav controversy involving Croats and Serbs.
There is no room in Canada for these backroom fantasies, these impassioned verbal storms in teacups, and barrages of propaganda which had their inception in the age-old antagonisms of the central European homelands. There is surely challenge enough in this great young country to absorb all the energies of its citizens no matter what their origin. This is a nation the members of which should be building for the future, not rehashing the squabbles of the dead past.

SEX EDUCATION AGAIN

IN HIS ADDRESS BEFORE THE CANADIAN Educational Society convention in Quebec yesterday, Dr. Norman A. M. MacKenzie, the able and distinguished president of the University of British Columbia, expressed a few opinions on the fields to which educationists might devote more time in order to promote a higher standard of mental health and happiness for Canadians.
Among others, he advocated the inclusion of sex education and courses in preparation for marriage and parenthood as parts of a desirable program. He accompanied his suggestion with the statement that:

"This is probably a joint responsibility of parents, of church and of society generally, but I believe that those of us in formal education might do more about it than we do."

The remarks of Dr. MacKenzie direct attention once again to the gratifying experiment conducted by Oak Bay Schools in sex education prior to the amalgamation of Greater Victoria's school boards. Opinion on the effectiveness of the course was uniformly favorable. Unfortunately, when the school merger took place, not only did the plan fail to attract the required authorization for its extension to other municipalities, but it was dropped from the Oak Bay curriculum, where it had been a voluntary subject. The explanation was given that the matter was under review by Department of Education officials—a review, incidentally, implying no hostility to the experiment.

No provision has been made in the present calendar for re-establishment of the course.
Perhaps the remarks of an educational leader as distinguished as the U.B.C. president may bring forth an announcement from provincial authorities relative to the restoration of this important subject to the curriculum.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP, From Rome
MONTH BEFORE DOOMSDAY

HERE IN THIS ancient city, the surface of life is deceptively tranquil and agreeable.
Among their monuments of 2,600 years, among the fountains and the flowers, the people of Rome appear to enjoy themselves without a care for the morrow. Yet here a disaster is preparing which, if not averted, is entirely capable of undermining the whole shaky postwar structure of Europe.

The Italian government is running out of dollars. It is as simple as that. The American public has already received intimations that trouble is afoot. But the dimension, the depth and the extreme urgency of the trouble have not as yet been even vaguely suggested.

IN THE SIMPLEST terms, according to official estimates agreed upon both by Italian and American authorities, the treasury of Italy now contains no more than $45,000,000 of hard cash. That is the entire reserve. That is all the Italian government has to buy abroad the wheat, coal and raw materials without which the Italian people cannot live. Since the government must spend approximately $40,000,000 a month on imports to maintain the life of Italy at the present low level, doomsday is only a few weeks off.

For the complacent United States, with her gigantic budget, it is difficult to conceive the difference that $40,000,000 a month makes in this country. The facts are all too bleakly plain, however.

THE RICH EAT well on the free market, but the average Italian lives on 200 grams of bread daily plus a few drops of oil, occasional vegetables and a morsel of cheese. Two hundred grams is less than a pound. A very large proportion of the wheat to make the bread is imported, and this percentage must rise in the months ahead because of this summer's bad harvest. Cessation of wheat purchases in the United States will mean a minimum cut in the bread ration of about one-third.

Furthermore, Italian industry imports the bulk of its raw materials, and requires 12,000,000 tons of foreign coal annually to keep running.
There is already serious unemployment in Italy—at least 1,500,000 are jobless—chiefly because coal imports are currently no more than 10,000,000 tons annually. Of these coal imports, somewhere close to 7,000,000 tons must be brought from the United States because of the failure of British and German production.

THUS, IF ITALY is no longer able to buy coal from America, the entire industrial machine will collapse like a house of cards. With their already inadequate fuel supplies cut by approximately three-quarters, most factories will have to close their doors. It is frightening to calculate what proportion of the 6,000,000 Italian industrial workers will then be without support.

For a long time the Italian government has been addressing despairing appeals for assistance to the Administration in Washington. The first of these appeals must have reached the State Department before President Truman made his curious remark that he saw nothing on the horizon demanding a special session. Nor is it any wonder that the Italian government should be desperate.
What threatens here in Italy makes the discussions of the Marshall Plan in Paris almost wholly academic for the present. If aid of some sort is not immediately forthcoming, Italy will be plunged into starvation and joblessness.

PRECISELY THOSE groups in the population among whom the Communists have made their gains—the industrial workers of the north and the landless agricultural workers—will be hit the hardest. The whole economy will inevitably collapse in a violent surge of inflation. And the ultimate absorption of Italy into the Soviet sphere will become an almost absolute certainty.

This is the main outline. Washington can still take steps to avert the disaster, but they must be taken quickly. Meanwhile two things are plain. If this disaster is permitted to occur, all the effort of American policy in the past two years will be wasted. Moreover, if Italy enters the Soviet sphere, the eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East will be cut off, and the rest of western Europe will be in urgent danger.

FOR WANT OF A SUM approximately one-third as large as the American female population pours annually into the beauty parlors, the United States will be brought to straits as inherently desperate as the straits of Britain after Munich. This is a crisis worse than the Greek crisis of last winter.

'The Stateliest Ship' Sails Again

From London Calling

ON SEPT. 28, 1946, the Queen Mary was demobilized; she arrived at Southampton from Halifax, Nova Scotia, at the end of her last trouping voyage. The war was over; her service number as a troopship, which had hidden her identity during the war years, had already been forgotten in official records and references; and, to the world at large, this drab, grey, travel-stained vessel was again the nobly-bellied, royallynamed Royal Mail steamer Queen Mary, proudly ending a long and distinguished spell of war service.

PASSENGERS' RESPECT

Even with her disfiguring war paint, the Queen Mary was externally still the lovely, slender vessel that, at her launching, King George V had described as "the stateliest ship in being." Inside, her original beauty had vanished.

Valuable furniture and fittings had been dumped ashore in overseas ports, in order to meet ever-increasing demands upon her accommodation; paintings, carvings, and beautifully-grained panelings had been hidden under unromantic plaster-board and plywood; luxurious appointments had been replaced by the austere equipment common to all troopships. The Queen Mary had carried more than 500,000 men securely across over 750,000 miles of dangerous ocean during the war, and the men she had carried respected her.

WOOD CARVERS

When the plaster-board and plywood came to be removed, the amount of permanent damage was found to be small. Inevitably, the deck rails were pitted with the carvings of men with time on their hands; but these, it was found, could be removed by planing or polishing, or by actually reversing the rails. If you look close enough, it is still possible to discover the carved initials of the soldiers of many nations.

Within a few days of the arrival of the Queen Mary at Southampton last September, hundreds of men, many of them from the Clyde-side shipbuilding yard which had prepared her for her maiden voyage in 1936, swarmed over her,
and began one of the greatest reconversion jobs ever undertaken on a merchant ship. Lesser liners called at Sydney and New York; to pick up packing-cases, containing such items as 2,500 doors and 10,000 pieces of furniture, deposited there during the war.

Complicated scaffolding sprang up in the liner's bowels, and workmen fell to—not only to restore her loveliness, but also to effect constructional improvements for the benefit of both passengers and crew. Skilled tradesmen went over every inch of the decorative features, renewing paneling, replacing the settings for the original lighting scheme, and so on. Additional public rooms were built in. A new cinema was installed in the star-board gallery, and two garden lounges, like those on the Queen Elizabeth, were prepared on either side of the first-class smoking-room.

LONG AND LOFTY

From the outside, the Queen Mary was already beginning to look shipshape, and her glistering hull was crowned by the familiar orange of the three funnels—just one of which could accommodate three large locomotives, side by side. "Long as a street and lofty as a tower," was how John Masefield described her in his poem, written for the launching.

And now this great ship has joined the Queen Elizabeth on the Cunard-White Star Atlantic service, carrying with her the proud wishes of all Britain, and of the nations of all those servicemen who sailed in her. Already she has made a number of trips, and she has many thousands of miles of safe and speedy trans-Atlantic travel ahead of her.

Why Pity The Hares?

To the bluejay, who squawks his chattering protest, this invasion of his woods is rank impertinence, a species of late summer madness that carries children into precincts inviolable, until the opening of the hunting season. Yet here they are, tumbling merrily through the salad, disappearing as they step into brush-covered holes in the uneven ground, and shouting their cries of the chase.

This is the season's-end game of hare and hounds. Ranging afield before them are two adults, scattering a faint "scent" of paper, pinning notes to trees, urging them on. In the pack, baying a falsetto treble, rush the "hounds," excited, eager. Here, a small one, unequal to the hurdles, runs into a log over which the quarry leapt with ease. There, only the flurry of top twigs betrays the questings of another, too short to see above the leafy crown of underbrush. On they surge as a leader picks up the "scent." But the race is erratic. It must halt while a tot is extricated from the tangled mass of low growth, while another is rescued from a cul de sac, while a third is helped down too steep a bank.

But if the trail is arduous, the spirit of adventure, the heat of the chase, transcends physical difficulties. On they press to the finish, scrambling, chuckling and limping to the place where the "hares"—their supply of paper scent exhausted—lie hidden. And though the quarry is only too willing to be discovered, the capture is still a triumph.
Incidents of the hunt are magnified in childish minds, and tired little ones straggle home to rest. In the distance, the bluejay still argues querulously, amazed at the antics of his young summer camp neighbors.—A.H.S.

NUCLEAR FISSION

Why should we delay longer in using our abundant supply of atomic energy, viz.: Uranium, thorium, as a basis of wealth and leave the gold in Fort Knox, if the Americans are so wedded to the ground?
That we should be theorizing over the American dollar is a disgrace to our intelligence and our ability to move into the abundant life.

With our paid politicians being afraid to meet the public and the situation—when party politics has proved itself a farce, when we have three wars in most peoples' memories, is this not enough to prove this man-made system inadequate and unsound?

Victorians awake, and lead the world

'NOT INTERESTED?'

The secret of deodorizing fish oil developed by Dr. Olaf Notewar was evolved by the Germans and for this reason should be shared by Canada and the United Nations.

The Norwegians refuse to give up this highly remunerative formula, and the matter has become an international controversy.
While touring Canada recently, Dr. Notewar studied our packing process, learning all he could but divulging nothing. The undersigned has knowledge of a process for deodorizing the most evil smelling oils, rat and dog fish livers and making them palatable. The process is very simple and costs only 10 cents a barrel.

Not only the oil but also the flesh of fish is preserved indefinitely, deodorized and enhanced in value from a medicinal point of view.

In Russia such knowledge would be utilized but here, unfortunately, from personal experience, I am able to say that officialdom is frankly not interested.
Unbelievable as it must seem, my offer to demonstrate this most valuable secret to "powers that be" has met with little encouragement.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

THE BARBARITY displayed in the communal warfare between Hindus and Moslems in India has come as a shock to the average foreigner who has been accustomed to gauging life in that great and mysterious continent on the basis of acquaintance with its famous names and achievements.

Most folk know such personalities as Pandit Nehru, brilliant prime minister of the new Dominion of India; Mahomed Ali Jinnah, distinguished governor-general of the Dominion of Pakistan; Mahatma Gandhi, all-powerful spiritual leader; the late Rabindranath Tagore, most notable Indian writer of generations and winner of the Nobel prize for literature.
We know all these, but many of us don't realize that the vast majority of India's 400,000,000 are primitives.

We are given to thinking of India in terms of the Taj Mahal, adjudged by experts to be the world's most exquisite building. However, we don't realize that the "home" of the average inhabitant of this land of mystery is a mud hut whose outside is plastered with cow-dung which is drying in the sun for fuel to cook the thin gruel which is the main food of an ever-hungry people.

Indians in general are treading the paths their ancestors trod centuries ago. Only 14 per cent of them above the age of five are literate, and anything beyond the ability to read and write simple letters is confined to a comparative few. The rank and file are deep in ignorance and superstition; they take their bodily ills and mental troubles to the spirit doctors who deal in lore of centuries past; they regard for human life (the other fellow's life) isn't high, and the Moslem in many instances is quite ready to gamble his own existence against fate.
Their code is an eye for an eye.

PRIMITIVE PASSIONS

(So the present bloody crisis, which Pandit Nehru characterizes as "analogous to war," can be attributed to a release of primitive passions in communities which long have been torn by religious and political differences.
There was the butchery of Hindus and Sikhs (Sikhism is allied to Hinduism) by irate Moslems in the Punjab area of newly-created Pakistan.
And what more natural under the circumstances than that the Hindus of new and old Delhi should retaliate with sword and bullet on the big Moslem population there.

The fury of the initial communal fighting has subsided greatly. Still one doesn't venture to predict what may be in store for the big peninsula before it has negotiated the passage from turmoil to peaceful independence. One can foresee the possibility of much more mourning in Moslem villages, and Hindu funeral pyres will tell their story of strife.

Despite all this we shall make a great mistake, it seems to me, if we jump to the conclusion that the peninsula isn't capable of self-rule. There is a host of highly-educated and capable men and women from whom to choose the governments. The universities and colleges for both sexes yearly are turning out a large number of eager candidates for public service.

The mentality of the Indian is high and he is capable of great things. The only way he can learn to govern is by governing. This transitional period may produce even greater storms than we have seen—possibly even all-out civil war—but your correspondent, having spent nearly a year in that country at various times, still believes there are the makings of a great power on the peninsula.

Mandatory Business Tax Is Opposed By Saanich Council

Representatives of Saanich Council will oppose a mandatory business tax throughout the province when they attend the Union of British Columbia Municipalities' convention at Harrison Hot Springs. The council meet in a special session Thursday night to consider resolutions to come up before the convention.

While the business tax might be advisable or even necessary in some areas, Reeve E. C. Warren was of the opinion that it was not right to make imposition of the levy mandatory.

Councillor George Rudd believed that an administrative municipal group made up of farmers, barbers and carpenters should not have to delve into such puzzling matters as business taxes. "They should be left to higher authorities in the Dominion and provincial governments." He did not think he was qualified to go into these questions.

His suggestion was that the council concentrate its energies in the direction of seeing that the small home owner and farmer is not placed in a position where he will be in danger of losing his property due to high taxes.

Former Chancellor Of Austria Will Speak Here Nov. 17

Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg, former Austrian chancellor, will speak in Metropolitan Church auditorium Nov. 17 next, it was announced at the quarterly meeting of the Royal Society of St. George, Thursday evening.

"A Human Acquaintance and Inhuman Experiences with Hitler," will be Schuschnigg's lecture subject.

K. C. Symons, president of the Royal Society of St. George, presided at the meeting held last night at St. Michael's School.

A dramatic and music program was arranged by Mrs. B. G. Rudock. Dramalogues were contributed by James McGrath, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. McGrath; humorous readings by Mr. Boucher and songs by Mrs. Bert Noel, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Langley.

The historical St. George, Patron Saint of England, was presented by John Stevens, together with a history of the Union Jack. Four new members were received.

The sum of $37 was contributed at the meeting on behalf of the orphan children of Whitehaven and Durham miners whose fathers were killed in the recent mining disaster.

89 Squadron Of Air Cadets Starts Training Tonight

Officers and instructors of 89 Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets, are looking forward to an active year of training which opens this evening.

Although the squadron was only formed about eight months ago, much progress has been made. Four air cadets have learned to fly—Alan Wallis at Sea Island in 1946, Larry Crawford, Bill Taylor and David Routley at Patricia Bay in 1947.

In addition, Wallis was chosen to go to Britain on the recent exchange visit and Crawford has gained entrance to the R.C.N.-R.C.A.F. College at Royal Roads.

The proficiency plaque for flying awarded to Crawford by the Air Cadet League of Canada is now on display at the headquarters of the Victoria Flying Club at Pat Bay, as the officials of this club, Vic Schultz and Jack Jenkins were responsible for the training of the Victoria air cadets.

Through the courtesy of Brock Whitney, a flier of World Wars 1 and 2, an electric clock was presented to the squadron on Friday last. The clock is mounted in a wooden propeller which was used in World War I on an old "Jenny" aircraft flown by Brock Whitney.

Trophies have been presented to the squadron by Ron Worley and Brock Whitney to be awarded to the most efficient cadet and the best cadet in drill. During the coming year trophies will also be awarded for excellence in first aid and gunnery.

Headquarters of the squadron is at Macaulay and parades are held there and in the Armories Friday evenings. The squadron is looking forward to the arrival of two Link trainers which have been purchased from War Assets.

The program of instruction being planned should prove of interest and great value to cadets as instruction will be given in radio, first aid, model aircraft building, airmanship and theory of flight, navigation, aero engines, gunnery and drill. It is intended to take part in the "Battle of Britain" parade on Sunday, Sept. 21, and all air cadets are urged to turn out in uniform tonight at 7.30 at Macaulay Air Cadet Station. Cadets who have uniforms and who are leaving the squadron are requested to turn in equipment at this time. Lads of 14 years and over who wish to enroll in 89 Squadron, R.C.A.C., are invited to Macaulay this evening.

Television's Making Progress

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor

Network television is on the way. Some day it may have a coast to coast hook-up just like its predecessor, sound broadcasting. Maybe before 1951.

But right now it is only in its beginning. Three television links along the eastern seaboard are in operation, others are under construction and still others are in the projected stage.

Two systems are being employed. One, and the most ambitious at present, is by specially designed wire line known as the coaxial cable, which is being laid underground partly to avoid weather obstacles. The other is by micro-wave radio relay.

Six companies have interested themselves in developing circuits, either to link stations together or for long-distance program pick-up as well as for general communications purposes. A seventh is investigating yet another method, "stratovision," which would use airplanes.

Besides its application to television, the coaxial cable is just as important in telephone and other types of transmission. For that matter, so is the radio relay.

WORKING ONE YEAR

The cable is the work of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. The first unit of a projected coast to coast circuit has been in operation for television between New York and Washington for nearly a year, with the original section, New York to Philadelphia, having been put into use before the war.

In addition, other cable is going in as fast as possible, with 4,000 miles now under ground and with the hope that 11,000 miles will be completed by the end of 1949. The first link from the east to west coasts is across the southern tier of states.

Along with the cable, A.T. & T. also is setting up radio relays—one between New York and Boston and one between New York and Chicago circuit expected in 1949.

While the cable system employs booster amplifiers at regular intervals, the radio circuit relies on automatic relay stations mounted on high towers every 30 miles or so, the distance depending on the type of terrain.

TWO REPEATER STATIONS

One pioneer in regular radio relay is General Electric of Schenectady, N.Y., which in 1939 began picking up and repeating programs from New York. Since the war it has set up a more elaborate circuit with two intermediate repeater stations.

Another is Philco of Philadelphia, which maintains a New York to Philadelphia television circuit via micro-wave, with one midway relay point. It is so designed as to make possible interconnections with nearby and intermediate communities.

In the Chicago area, the Balaban & Katz television station, WBKB, is installing a radio unit, expected to be ready this fall, to connect with South Bend, Ind. From that point it intends to televise Notre Dame football games over its Chicago station.

Two other companies also have been delving into the micro-wave field. Raytheon has an experimental link between New York and Boston, set up primarily for communication purposes but having television possibilities.

In a similar category are the Western Union's radio plans, using RCA developed equipment. It has in experimental operation for telegraph messages a New York-Philadelphia circuit and installation under way on extensions to Washington and Pittsburgh. There are plans for ultimate expansion to other cities, including Chicago. This, too, could be employed for television relay.

The "stratovision" experiments are being conducted by Westinghouse. This system would employ strategically located airplanes instead of cable or ground stations as the basic units of a television network. Date for the first tests has not been announced.

STATIONS GROWING

Meanwhile, the list of television stations is growing. So far, an even dozen in eight cities are sending regular programs. Another 56 have obtained construction permits and are in varying stages of preparation for opening telecasts. They are located in 38 cities, five of which already have stations. Around a dozen applications still await federal communications commission action.

Here are the operating stations and their locations: WNBC, WCBS and WABD in New York; WPTZ in Philadelphia, WTTG and WNBW in Washington, WRGB in Schenectady, WWJ-TV in Detroit, WBKB in Chicago, KSD-TV in St. Louis, W6XAO and KTLA in Los Angeles. Of the 92 or so experimental licenses which have been issued, mainly for technical research and other purposes, one, W9XZV in Chicago, conducts programs as well as general tests.

Because of the higher frequencies used by television, the range is "line of sight"—the theoretical distance the transmitter antenna can be "seen" from a receiving point. That makes the average range 40 miles.

A "Good Neighbor" Policy on Party Lines Will Bring Better Phone Service

There are now more party-line telephones than ever before and our telephone exchanges are carrying too big a load of telephone calls. The problem is that we are trying to give service to as many people as possible with the limited facilities available. As a result, the standard of service has deteriorated.

Party-line telephone users can help to relieve the present trying situation by adopting a "good neighbor" policy toward those with whom they share the line—that is, by

- (1) Making their telephone conversations shorter, and
- (2) Reducing the number of non-essential calls.

Gwendolyn Cox Married In London, Ont.

Mrs. Handley R. Perkins, the former Miss Gwendolyn Cox, younger daughter of Harry Audley Cox, Victoria, and the late Mrs. Cox, pictured following her marriage Saturday afternoon at St. Luke's Church, Broughdale, London, Ont., of which her groom is rector. Mrs. Dorothy Scruton, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor, and Julie Scruton, her niece, was junior bridesmaid. Rev. and Mrs. Perkins will reside at Huron College, where Rev. Perkins is Dean of Residence.

V.O.N. Board Hears Of National Meeting

Mrs. Peter Barr, Victoria delegate to the annual meeting of Victoria Order of Nurses for Canada, held at Ottawa early in the year, gave a summary of the event at the first full meeting of the local board. Mrs. Harold Bate, the president, was in the chair.

More than 300 members, representing 85 branches of the V.O.N. across Canada attended the two-day sessions, one of which was held at Government House. Particular highlights, Mrs. Barr said, were the addresses by Miss E. M. Crothers, general superintendent, Queen's Institute of District Nursing, London, Eng.; Leonard Brockington, K.C., L.L.D.; Hon. Paul Martin, K.C., Minister of National Health and Welfare, and the official retirement and presentation for Miss Elizabeth Smellie, O.B.E., chief superintendent, who has been with the order since 1921. Mrs. Barr was asked, in compliment to the Victoria Branch, to second the vote of thanks to Miss Crothers.

Great interest and approbation was shown in the Victoria Junior V.O.N., one of the few groups of its kind in Canada. Mrs. Barr said. She was also impressed with the fact that national problems discussed in Ottawa, such as that of meeting the increasing demands for service on restricted budgets, the establishment of an educational fund, salary schedules under changing conditions, uniform allowances, means of publicity, care of an aging population, was similar to those facing the Victoria V.O.N. board.

The business of the Victoria branch included a report by Mrs. F. Norris, Junior V.O.N. president, that the group had out-fitted a bed for the children's ward of the Jubilee Hospital, and that plans were going ahead for the Children's Fashion Show, to be held in the Crystal Garden, Friday, Sept. 26.

Mrs. E. H. W. Elkington, motors' convener, suggested V.O.N. lettering on the order's cars, and that an estimate on repairs be made by the garage at regular intervals. E. C. Lewis was appointed to draw up a reformed version of the local by-laws, as suggested at the annual meeting in Ottawa.

Miss M. Baird, Victoria supervisor, reported 1,463 visits had been made by the nurses during August. These included 34 prenatal, 491 to mothers with new babies, 258 to cancer and chronic patients, 215 for health instruction, and 465 general visits. The supervisor also reported that visits were made to several doctors' offices to explain the V.O.N. pre-natal service, and that nurses had attended some of the meetings of the paediatrics society at the Jubilee Hospital.

One of the V.O.N. staff conferences dealt with poliomyelitis, so that the nurses are thoroughly conversant when checking suspected symptoms.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B₁, C, D, Riboflavin (B₂), and Nicotin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underperforms, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

I.C.W. Discusses Household Needs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The International Council of Women thinks national governments should do something about the shortage of baby sitters, maids, cooks and other household assistants.

To make that view official, the council in its third session Wednesday drew up a resolution recommending establishment of national home service institutes or boards to investigate, plan and organize "the best form of education, training, registration and employment conditions for home assistants."

At Wednesday's meeting of more than 1,000 delegates Princess Achrof Pahlavi, daughter of the Shah of Iran, appealed for universal support of the Red Cross.

Rubies were believed in ancient times to have the power to stop bleeding.

VEL works magic!

CUTS DISHWASHING TIME 3 WAYS

- VEL penetrates, cuts grease, loosens dirt faster.
- VEL eliminates wiping... dishes, glasses gleam no streaky film to wipe away.
- No dishpan ring with VEL... no soap scum to scour away.

HERE'S ALL YOU DO...

Just put a few teaspoonfuls of VEL in your dishpan (about half as much as soap). Add water. VEL gives the water amazing new cleaning power that lasts long after suds dissolve. VEL removes grease faster, more completely than soap—in hardest water. Dishes, glasses sparkle without the touch of a towel. And VEL is milder to hands, free from soapy alkalis!

VEL keeps stockings sheerer, lovelier!

Says Claire Honeyford, Toronto. "My nylons stay lovelier longer now I wash them with gentle VEL. I put just a teaspoonful of VEL in the basin, add lukewarm water... dip and squeeze a few times, and VEL washes nylons and undies fresh and sheer as new... no dulling soap film!"

Sooke School Trustees Plan Improvements After Inspections

LANGFORD — Trustees of Sooke rural school district No. 62 have begun visiting schools in the area and will continue throughout the month, to determine the extent of alterations and interior and exterior painting to be done.

They report added playground space needed at a number of schools.

Trustees last Sunday visited Jordan River, Otter Point, Muir Creek, East Sooke, Sooke, Metchosin and Happy Valley schools. The board inspected Langford and Colwood schools Thursday as they all require interior and exterior painting.

All property-owners residing in this school area will be notified of the modernizing of a number of schools at a special meeting on Nov. 1 when a money by-law is expected to be put to a vote.

The board will further discuss necessary work at a meeting on Sept. 29 at Milne's Landing High School where improved lighting and wiring are needed. A second conference will be held in October.

The caravan tour of inspection found that Jordan River school had been condemned by a previous school board six years ago.

Work listed as necessary is as follows: Metchosin: New room and heating plant and fire-proof furnace room, playground extension. East Sooke: Water supply,

Trustees Say Sooke Schools Lacking Fire Protection

LANGFORD — Trustees of Sooke Rural School District No. 62 have expressed themselves concerned about the question of fire protection, during the course of their present inspections of district schools, made to see and discuss alterations and improvements.

The trustees said some of the district schools have been without adequate fire protection and means of emergency exit for the past 50 years.

The present board, at recent meetings, has discussed and decided upon methods to meet increased enrollment and provide adequate high school accommodation.

They report that some improvements are so urgently needed that there should be no delay in carrying out the work. Trustees said the Highlands, Shirley, Rocky Point and Albert Head schools, now closed, would need considerable capital to modernize them. They have agreed that the board needs a contingency fund.

Work Progresses On Sooke Legion Hall

SOOKE — Progress is being made on the new addition to the Sooke Branch, No. 54, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., clubhouse on Arden Road, Sooke.

Volunteer labor is given by members, part of three days each week. Providing a second room 40 by 24 feet, the new structure will be finished on the exterior with shingles. Great interest is being taken in this building by the president of Sooke branch, Mr. John Martin of Milne's Landing.

Seek Janitor For Langford Schools

LANGFORD — The School Board has received requests from parents of children attending Langford, Metchosin and Sooke elementary schools to have a full-time janitor employed to see to the firing at these schools until a by-law be passed on new heating equipment.

Plan Country Fair Sept. 19 At Colwood

COLWOOD — Plans for the country fair to be held in Colwood Hall, Sept. 19, were made at a meeting of the Colwood Community Club. The club will be in charge of the games, with Colin Smith as convener.

Well-Baby Clinic At Happy Valley

COLWOOD — A well-baby and pre-school clinic will be held on the first Tuesday in October at the Happy Valley School, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. Dr. J. L. Gayton will attend this clinic to vaccinate the children, it has been announced by Miss Ellen-Urbold, Esquimalt district nurse.

Investigate Cause Of Wharf Fire

PORT ALBERNI — Possibility of "spontaneous ignition" among piled plywood causing the assembly wharf fire here is being investigated by W. P. Nichols of the Fire Marshal's office, Vancouver.

Claiming regulations governing plywood storage would have to be revised if this were found the cause, Mr. Nichols has taken data and samples collected at the burned wharf to Vancouver for testing.

However, other factors, including careless smoking, could have caused the fire, is the opinion of the official.

Vancouver Island Rabbit Breeders' Association will meet tonight at 734 Fort Street, at 8.

Alberni To Get 100 Wartime Houses, May Get 200 Duplexes

PORT ALBERNI — The provincial government has approved construction of up to 100 new wartime houses at Port Alberni, according to information received by Mayor W. C. Hamilton from City Clerk F. L. Kitto, who is at Victoria conferring on housing with B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipalities.

The deputy minister has also approved a plan broached to Port Alberni council Monday night whereby up to 200 duplex homes could be brought here by scow and erected in a short space of time. The interested company is North Pacific Contracting Co., which has built similar homes at Bremerton, Wash.

Although full details are yet to be worked out, the minister has approved similar taxation and financing arrangements for the new Wartime Housing unit as pertained to the unit of 50 now near completion here.

Mayor Hamilton has wired D. H. Back, Wartime Housing official at Vancouver, who met the council today with a view to making construction arrangements. Mr. Kitto brought full details of the duplex-home plan from Victoria, and it appears possible that some of these homes will be built here.

Send Douks North Wisner Advised

James K. Cornwall, "Peace River Jim," has written Attorney-General Wisner suggesting that Doukhobors be colonized in the Northwest Territories.

"We have two elements in the climate up there that would assist in keeping them clothed, the summer mosquitoes and in the winter Jack Frost would take care of them," Mr. Cornwall wrote.

"Lakes are filled with fish, and millions of caribou roam the barren land. There are millions of acres of very fertile land. The country is self-sustaining and the Doukhobors would have plenty of room to roam around at will should they become restless." Mr. Cornwall offered to guide the Doukhobors into a real Promised Land if they are settled in the northland.

Salt Spring Golf Club Holds Lawn Dance

VESUVIUS BAY — Under the auspices of Salt Spring Island Golf Club, an open-air dance was held at "Tantamar," Vesuvius Bay.

Dancing was on the lawn which was decorated with colored lights and Chinese lanterns; Bob Tester's orchestra provided the music. Supper was served round a large bonfire on the beach. Those in charge were Mesdames A. E. Duke, R. T. Britton, H. Sjoquist and Miss Shirley Wilson. Proceeds clear of expenses will go towards club funds.

A demonstration of the Dale Carnegie Institute course of training will be held at the Sir-occo Ballroom Sept. 26, at 8, and

... "And Then There Were None"

Harold was just an old sheep-counter. Every night, before he got to sleep, he counted thousands of sheep...

Then one day an Experienced Friend suggested maybe it was the caffeine in the Tea and Coffee he drank that kept the sheep jumping over the fence...

So Harold STOPPED tea and coffee, and changed to POSTUM...

And right away he only got a few hundred sheep over the fence before sleep overcame him...

And in a few nights only a dozen...

And then there were none!

Many people can safely drink tea and coffee. But others are upset by the caffeine these beverages contain. If you find yourself sleepless, nervous, irritable — try changing to Postum. You'll like its rich, heart-warming flavor. Not like tea, not like coffee, just a grand flavor all its own.

Easy to fix — make Postum right in the cup just by adding boiling water or hot milk. Costs less than 1¢ a serving.

Three Weeks Away From Golden Payoff

With the end of baseball's scheduled grind near, Brooklyn Dodgers continue to set the pace in the National League and these three don't figure on letting World Series money get away from them. Manager Burt Shotton, who has pushed Leo Durocher right out of the picture; colored Jackie Robinson, likely "rookie of the year," and Carl Furillo engage in a clubhouse talk.

If Filchok In Uniform Hamilton Defaults Game

OTTAWA (CP)—Even before the teams have met on the field of Hamilton's Civic Stadium, tomorrow's Big Four game between Hamilton Tigers and Ottawa Rough Riders has taken on the aspects of the biggest football battle in Canadian gridiron history.

The game itself is merely serving as a focal point for a major verbal tussle between the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union and officials of the Hamilton Union and officials of the Hamilton Football Club over the question of what happens if Tigers carry out their threat to play Frankie Filchok, banned by Canadian and American football authorities.

In this over-all contest, the I.R.F.U. did its most effective paper-blocking previously. Assisted by the Canadian Rugby Union, it expressed the opinion that Filchok, former New York Giants professional barred for failure to report a bribe offer, should not be allowed to play in Canada. The C.R.U. refused to certify Filchok's playing certificate.

Last night, however, the Big Four moved into the offensive and started to close in on Hamilton. D. Wes Brown, I.R.F.U. secretary, announced that a vote of the executive committee, with only the Hamilton representative dissenting, had decreed that any game in which the Czech star played for Tigers would automatically be recorded as a win for the opposing team—no matter what the score.

CLAIM VOTE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Jack Langs, president of the Hamilton Football Club, said last night the Tigers will defy the I.R.F.U. executive and play their import because they don't believe the bar is "constitutional."

"There is nothing in the league constitution," said Langs last night, "which would make Filchok ineligible. We have reason to believe the league president will issue a statement declaring the vote unconstitutional and dissociating himself with it."

Cricketers Engage In Knockout Matches Tomorrow

Cricket action tomorrow will see knockout play begin with two semifinal matches carded and one exhibition match.

Oak Bay will play Albions at Windsor Park in one section of the knockout draw with Navy playing host to ex-R.A.F. at Naden in the other sudden-death affair. The latter game promises to be keenly fought with both elevens playing at top form in recent games.

Five C's, league champions, will meet Cowichan at Macdonald Park in the exhibition tilt. All matches start at 2.30.

Five C's	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Oak Bay	12	1	2	25
Incandes	8	3	4	17
Ex-R.A.F.	7	3	4	17
R.C.N.	2	1	9	10
Albions	3	6	10	6

Line-ups for tomorrow's matches follow:

Oak Bay—Dobbin, Brewin, Perkins, Scott, Sparks, Gauvreau, Bing, Deane, Robinson, Sands and J. M. Wright.

Five C's—Griffin, Pugh, Harper, G. Payne, F. C. Payne, J. Payne, Richards, Inglis, O'Grady, Atwell and Gardiner.

President of the league is J. D. Chilman of Hamilton.

Langs said the secretary of the Big Four had no constitutional right to request a vote on the eligibility of Filchok and "we defy him to produce any article of the constitution which has been contravened by us."

All-Star Ball Tonight

Professional baseball will return to Athletic Park tonight when all-star clubs from the Western International League, representing West and East, engage in the first of two exhibition games.

Second clash is billed tomorrow night. Game time each evening will be at 8.

Including many of the brightest stars in the circuit, the clubs are engaged in a tour of the league cities and, according to reports, have been checking in with snappy exhibitions. The West club is under the management of Hub Kittle, Bremerton mound star, with Art Lilly, Yakima, acting as pilot of the East.

Line-up of the West includes three members of the Victoria Athletics, outfielder Johnny Hooper, third-sacker Babe Jensen and pitcher Bill Woop. It is likely that Woop, one of the most effective southpaws in the league, will draw the starting assignment for the West tonight.

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—Uncorking eight runs on four hits in the second inning, the West defeated the East 9 to 2 last night in an exhibition baseball game between all star teams from the Western International League.

The westerners cashed in on three errors, three walks, two singles and two doubles in the big inning. The doubles were by Babe Jensen of Victoria and Earl Kuper of Tacoma.

The easterners got their two runs in the eighth on doubles by pitcher Dick Sinovic of Salem and Art Lilly of Yakima and a single by Lou Estes of Wenatchee.

Roy Temple Heads Interhigh School Sports Council

Inter-high school sport, which last year reached an all-time high under direction of the Inter-high School Sports Council, is set for an even greater season this year, plans formulated at last night's meeting of the council reveal.

Roy Temple was elected president of the council for the ensuing year with Laurie Wallace as vice-president and Ken Brown as secretary-treasurer. Executive committee includes Jim Muir, Charlie Gibbard and John Fouracre. Ernie Costain was appointed publicity chairman.

First on the list of activities for the coming year are basketball and rugby. Hugh Farquhar is in charge of the rugby circuit and the season will start as soon as schedules are drawn up. Oak Bay and Victoria High will play in the senior division, staging exhibition tilts until Howard Russell Cup play begins.

The senior B rugby league is composed of entries from Oak Bay, Victoria High (2), Mount View and Mount Douglas. A junior division has been added to the slate this season with entries of two teams from each school being a possibility. The rugby schedule will wind up by Christmas.

The senior hoopers, with Bill Reid of Victoria High in charge, will play from November to February. Juniors will close out their schedule before the Christmas holidays.

Victoria High has the largest entry list in the senior division, four teams representing the school. Mount View, Esquimalt, Mount Douglas and Oak Bay will each enter one team.

Junior division entries have been received from Oak Bay, Victoria High, Esquimalt and Mount View.

Saskatoon Girls Softball Champions

WINNIPEG (CP)—A sharp 13th-inning single by Martha Caudle gave Louise Vawter victory over Eileen Capar in a grueling pitchers' duel here Thursday night as Saskatoon Ramblers retained the western Canada senior women's softball championship, defeating Winnipeg C.U.A.C. 2 to 1 before 2,800 fans in the fourth game of a best-of-five final.

With one away in the 13th, Hazel Smith reached first on an error, stole second, and after Peggy Levins walked, came home on Caudle's long single to centre field and a wild relay by fielder Minnie Trybell.

Leonard Uncorks 66 For B.C. Golf Lead

VANCOUVER (CP)—Marine Drive professional Stan Leonard fired a blistering six-under-par 66 yesterday to capture the first round lead in the 1947 $1,500 British Columbia open championship. Two strokes behind was Ken Tucker, pro from Everett, Wash.

Leading amateur among the 117 contestants was Vancouver's veteran Jimmy Robertson, who put together rounds of 36 and

Good Card Listed For Auto Races At Langford Speedway

Rained out last week, the regular Saturday night auto races will resume again tomorrow night at Langford Speedway with time trials slated to get started at 7.30.

Shorty Schovell is scheduled to handle the wheel of Chuck House's No. 25 buggy as a strong American contingent will attempt once again to take the special purse that goes to the first American to win the main event.

Others from the United States entered in this week's hot rod classic are Del and Gene Fanning and Lou McMurry. Jack Spaulding, a triple winner this year, will drive Bill Perkins' No. 44 buggy.

Digger Caldwell is reported to have his No. 1 car back in top shape and may take it all.

Jackie Turner Gets English Fight Offer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Jackie Turner, Vancouver's fighting buzz-saw, may go to England shortly for an international bout against either Jackie Patterson, Dado Marino or Rinty Monaghan.

Turner has been invited to visit the British Isles by Jack Solomons—England's Mike Jacobs—and the only thing barring the way is finances. Solomons is willing to pay Turner's expenses but he can not export money, so the latter must make his own way.

He is going to take several fights to get the money and then leave for England and a crack at the world's flyweight championship of Marino, even if he has to beat Patterson and Mohoghan to get it.

34 for a two-under-par 70. He was tied with Harold West of Portland, Ore. Gordon Richards of Seattle was next with 71.

Defending champion Chuck Congdon was six strokes off the pace and tied with five others. Bracketed with the Tacoma pro—recent winner of the $10,000 Portland Open—were Dave Kilien of Olympia, Wash.; Tom Hunter of Powell River; Emery Zimmerman, Portland; and locals Percy Clogg and Ernie Brown.

FANS throughout the Western International League baseball circuit are getting the opportunity this season of watching the loop's ranking players in action through the organization of a tour by two all-star aggregations representing the west and east. Credit for promoting the series of games goes to two of the league's veterans, Hub Kittle, crafty Bremerton pitcher, and Art Lilly, Yakima infielder. The all-star clubs open a two-game stand at the local ball yard tonight.

BOTH Kittle and Lilly are hoping their efforts this season will result in the W.I.L. directors taking some action to introduce an all-star game into the regular season next year. They feel the northwest league should follow in the footsteps of the majors, Coast League and many other minor loops in staging an annual all-star classic. Funds derived from such an engagement could be marked for a player's benefit fund or even turned over to a worthy charity. Most popular plan would be to hold the all-star game in each of the eight towns alternately in the league with the league champions opposing the pick of the remaining clubs. Such a classic would give the league added prestige and provide a first-class exhibition each season. The idea has plenty of merit.

CONTAINING much valuable information on Canadian golf the new 1947 year book of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association just off the press is an interesting edition. Included is a series of valuable golf lessons by the Dominion's leading professionals. There are past records, official rules and a wealth of other informative material which will be eagerly read by golfers everywhere. According to reports the book has been enthusiastically received by golfers throughout the country.

WHEN the personnel of the United States Ryder Cup golf squad to engage the British team at Portland in November was announced this week, no doubt many were surprised to note the name of Byron Nelson. Retired from active competition Nelson is in the opinion of several experts is really sticking his neck out by agreeing to return to international competition. But, like the true sport he is, Nelson leaves no room for an alibi should his showing be disappointing because of his long absence from tournament play.

"My game is in very good shape and I feel confident of holding my end up against the invaders," Nelson is quoted from Texas, where he is a down-to-earth farmer.

No. 13 Jinx Proves Fatal To Esquimalt

By SONNY WALKER

That old No. 13 jinx caught up with Esquimalt Meat Market in the second game of their western Canada softball playoffs at Vancouver last night as Saskatoon Merchants took advantage of costly infield bobbles to eke out a 3 to 2, 10-inning victory and tie the series at two points apiece.

For the locals, last night's game was their 13th in the playoff string that saw them knock off Ladysmith in seven games and New Westminster in four and the omen of that famous number held true as every run counted by the Saskatoon nine was of the unearned variety. The 1 drew 2,200.

Ken Gunter, replacement for Ralph Bonner, was not to blame for the defeat although he did throw a wild pitch in the last half of the 10th inning, enabling the winning run to cross the plate. And, that run was of a highly questionable nature, catcher Ed Young firing the ball to Gunter who appeared to touch Porky Hulme as he came plateward only to have the umpire rule otherwise.

Esquimalt opened the scoring in the first inning when, with two men out, Chick Newman singled, stole second and scored on Vic Dale's smash to centre.

Saskatoon came right back in their half of the frame to take the lead at 2 to 1 when two errors with two men out allowed Jerry Webster and Glen Richardson to cross the plate. With Webster on third by virtue of a walk, a stolen base and a wild heave by Young, shortstop Ab Ellis threw wildly to first, allowing Webster to score and Richardson to go all the way to third. Ginger Dunlop then singled Richardson home.

TIE SCORE

Esquimalt's second and tying run came in the first of the fifth. Bill Raftery was safe at first on pitcher Morin's boot. Taylor advanced him to second and he scored on Newman's one-bagger.

With two out in the 10th Hulme blasted a single to centre field for Saskatoon. Bob Smith then topped a slow infield roller to Taylor who failed to charge the ball. As a result his throw, pulling Newman off the bag, allowed Hulme to go to third from where he scored on Gunter's low pitch, which rolled to the stands.

Newman and Byers, each with two bingles, topped the Esquimalt stickers, while Hulme was the big gun for Saskatoon with three for four. Esquimalt made five errors to Saskatoon's two.

Latest playoff arrangements announced last night find the two teams meeting in the third game tonight at 8.15 and the fourth game Saturday night at 8.15. There will be no afternoon game Saturday, the fifth, if necessary, being tentatively slated for Vancouver Sunday.

Wage Dispute Halts Portland Race Meet

PORTLAND (AP)—Horse races were canceled here Thursday night because of a wage dispute at the scheduled opening of a fall meeting of the Portland Meadows track.

Track operators said the dispute was over an increased demand by A.F.L. pari-mutuel clerks. Neither side disclosed the amount asked.

Directors called a meeting to decide "whether to open the track at all." A 20-day meeting had been scheduled.

Brooklyn Wins First Of Crucial Series

Brooklyn's dashing Dodgers never were in a better position to win the National League pennant than they were last night following their victory in the biggest game of the year for them.

That was the game the Dodgers had to win to put the quietus on the St. Louis Cards. They did it handsomely with a 4 to 3 licking in St. Louis which put the Dodgers 5½ games up on the Cardinals.

Eddie Dyer's Redbirds, fighting with their back against the wall, needed a sweep of the three-game series to get back into serious contention. Or, at the worst, two victories of three.

Every Cardinal player sensed it. And they led with their ace, Harry (The Cat) Brecheen.

But he failed to survive the eighth inning. The crushing blow was a pinch bases-loaded single by Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto which scored Carl Furillo with the run that broke up a 3-3 tie.

The Cards now face a herculean task in their attempt to overhaul the fast-flying Dodgers. They have only 16 more games, two with the Brooks. Eleven of the 18 are at home. The Dodgers, on the other hand, have only 15 games left to play, four at home.

Even should the Redbirds win 12 of their remaining 18 games, the Dodgers can sew it up by winning only six of 15.

20TH FOR BRANCA

Last night's tense struggle, witnessed by 29,452, was a thriller all the way. Brecheen was opposed by 21-year-old Ralph Branca, the former Montreal Royals fireballer, who was making his third attempt for his 20th victory, finally made it, but was not around at the finish.

After the Dodgers had gone ahead 4 to 3 in the top of the eighth, Branca was slugged for two successive singles in the bottom half of the inning and was replaced by Hank Behrman. The lanky relief right-hander forced Erv Dusak, the next batter, to hit into an inning-end double play and retired the side without mishap in the ninth.

The Dodger-Card tussle thrust into the shadows the slugging feat of Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh power hitter, who slammed out four home runs, three in the second game of the Pirates' double-header with Boston Braves, to tie Johnny Mize of New York Giants for the home-run leadership of the majors at 47 apiece.

Kiner drove in seven runs to help the Bucs take both games from the Braves 4 to 3 in 13th inning and 10 to 8.

YANKES SPLIT

New York Yankees, who lead the American League by 12½ games, split a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the second game 11 to 5 after Hal Newhouser tamed them with six hits in pitching the Tigers to a 7 to 2 victory in the opener.

Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox split, the Tribe taking the first in a free-hitting affair 10 to 8, the Red Sox the second 8 to 3, in 5½ innings.

Ken Raffensberger, Cincinnati lefthander, snapped a five-game winning streak of the Giants by pitching the Reds to a 3 to 2 victory. Johnny Mize accounted for one of the Giants' runs with his 47th home run of the season.

Seals Move Within Game And Half Of Coast League Lead

Lefty O'Doul's stretch-running San Francisco Seals, taking their third straight from San Diego, 4 to 0, last night, pulled to within a game and one-half of the Coast League leaders, the Los Angeles Angels.

The Angels fell before Sacramento, 4 to 2, for the second time in three days.

Lefty Al Lien curved a four-hitter for the Seals, fanning six, and besting Bob Kerrigan. Two runs in the first inning sewed it up for the O'Douls.

Tony Freitas, veteran Sacramento southpaw, stopped the Angels with nine scattered hits, while his mates made the most of eight off Red Lynn and Jess Dobernick.

The Portland Beavers, behind Duane Pillette, romped to a 7 to 0 win over Hollywood and stepped into third place, four games off the pace.

Seattle kept Oakland in fourth place by downing the Oaks, 9 to 6. Four hits by Lou Novikoff paced a 14-hit attack that gave the Rainiers their first win of the series.

Chandler Silent After Meeting With Macphail

CINCINNATI (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler practiced again Thursday what he has been trying to preach to Larry Macphail—silence—after a conference with the president of New York Yankees in connection with statements Macphail made about that forbidden subject, Leo Durocher.

As was the case when Macphail was called on his green carpet last April for criticizing the suspension for the season of the Brooklyn manager, the big shot of baseball declined to discuss yesterday's confab with the fiery Yankee president, which followed a meeting to plan for the 1947 world series.

Interrupted in his talk about the series by a question as to what the score was with the New York president, Chandler cried: "That's all; that's all."

Macphail also was silent as to what took place.

Chandler began an investigation several days ago into statements attributed to Macphail last week concerning the Durocher case.

The New Yorker was quoted as saying it was a 100-to-one shot that Durocher would not be back with the Dodgers next season.

Weekly Fishing Reports Issued By Game Wardens

R. LAWLEY
Alberni District
Cameron Lake, very fair; Deep Lake, fair; Dixon Lake, fair; Elsie Lake, very fair; Great Central Lake, very fair; Nahmint Lake, good; Sproat Lake, very fair.

The lakes are better now than they have been for some time. Fairly good fishing has been reported in all areas, but the fish have not been exceptionally big ones. The big ones should be on the rise by the middle of the month, with the month of October to be the better time for them.

The rivers are showing better lately; some very nice fish have been taken on the fly, the main fly being the March Brown tail.

The Canal fishing is at its best, the fish are there, also the boats, but very few are landed as the fish put up a terrific fight.

Not much to report, rivers and streams still very low, more rain is needed. Estuary fishing showing a little improvement. Weather has not been good for bass fishing at Spider Lake, more hot weather needed.

Astoria Will Play In Pro Cage Loop

PORTLAND (AP)—Astoria, Ore., has been given a franchise in the Pacific Coast Professional Basketball League, and the loop will function this year with six members, president Ray Clark, Portland, said today.

The new team will be handled by Wally Palmberg, the former Oregon State College standout, as coach, and his brother, William, as business manager.

The team will play 54 games this winter.

Clark said the existing Seattle franchise had been taken over by the league, and that it was negotiating with a group of Seattle men who might take it over.

Kramer Given Bad Scare By Seattle's Jim Brink

NEW YORK (AP)—Tennis player Jack Kramer saw $50,000 flying right out the window yesterday, and he went through a bad hour and sweated plenty before he managed to haul back the errant greenbacks.

The near disaster occurred when he locked horns in the fourth round of the United States national championships at Forest Hills with James Brink, tousle-haired southpaw from Seattle, Wash.

The supposedly invincible "Jake" finally pulled himself together and won out by scores of 6-1, 3-6, 9-7, 7-5.

The 50 grand which Kramer saw exiting in the third set represents conservatively the money he expects to reap within the next year as a professional.

Brink, seeded 12th on the American list, caught Kramer looking rusty, unable to get his backhands over the net. Brink broke Kramer's twisting service twice in succession in the third set, and again in the fourth to pull up to 5-5.

BROWN WINNER

Tom Brown of San Francisco came through in a homeric struggle against Geoff Brown of Australia, 7-5, 4-6, 10-8, 6-1. They put on a spectacular display of hot services and sizzling drives, with neither ever playing it safe if it were possible to take a chance.

John Bromwich, Australia's No. 1 star, and Gardner Mulloy of Miami, each racked up an easy victory to qualify for a meeting in today's quarterfinals. Mulloy ousted Torsten Johansson of Sweden, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, while Bromwich annihilated Eddie Moylan of San Francisco, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

Meantime Mrs. Nancy Bolton of Australia, looked impressive in hanging a 6-4, 6-1 defeat on Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of Hidden Valley, Calif., in their quarterfinal match.

The second seeded American star, Louis Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., recovered from an uncertain start to eliminate Dorothy Head of Alameda, Calif., 6-8, 6-2, 6-0.

In late-day games, Frankie Parker of the United States and Pancho Segura of Ecuador won their way into the quarterfinals. Parker downed Victor Seixas of Philadelphia 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, and Segura upset Dinny Falls, the Australian stylist 1-6, 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

Tillicum Boxla Team Beaten In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Junior Burrards hit their stride Thursday night to overwhelm the Victoria Tillicum Athletic Club 20 to 4 in the second game of the British Columbia junior lacrosse finals.

Burrards' lop-sided victory evened the best-of-three series at one game each, Victoria having taken the opener at Victoria by a 24 to 16 margin.

The Victoria Club, playing its first game of the season on a wooden floor, appeared to be bothered by the Forum's strange surface.

Bud Ward Loses To Unknown In U.S. Golf Play

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Veteran Johnny Dawson of Hollywood, Calif., became a semi-finalist in the United States amateur golf championship yesterday when he defeated Frank Strafaci, Flushing, N.Y., 6 and 5 in an 18-hole quarterfinal match. Dawson eliminated Otto Hofmeister, Lewiston, Idaho, 5 and 4 in the fifth round, playing four-under-par golf.

A two-time former national amateur kingpin, Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., was a quarterfinals victim, bowing before a competitor unknown to big time golf, John Selby of Piedmont, Calif., 2 and 1.

As a result of the upset win, Selby will meet Dawson in one of the 36-hole semifinals.

Ward had crashed into the quarterfinals with a 6 and 5 win over Frank Hixon, San Gabriel, Calif.

Felice Torza, Wethersfield, Conn., and Skee Riegel, Monterey Park, Calif., won their matches in the lower bracket and will meet in the other 36-hole semifinal.

Torza, winner of the all-America amateur title in the Tam O'Shanter tournament at Chicago last July, defeated Harvie Ward of Rocky Mount, N.C., 4 and 3. Riegel, member of this year's Walker Cup team, beat Bob Rosburg, Stanford University student, 2 and 1.

Mayor Demands Harbor Clean-Up, Police Water Patrol Immediately

Mayor Percy George today requested the city harbor committee to institute a harbor "clean-up" campaign immediately, and he authorized to make full use of the advice and assistance of the appropriate civic departments as required.

In a letter addressed to today's City Council meeting he recommended that a regular police patrol of the harbor by water be instituted to check on use and abuse of the harbor.

Other recommendations included:

1. An appeal to ship operators and property owners to avoid disposing of oil, refuse, or debris of any kind in the harbor.
2. Investigation and elimination of sources of contamination or pollution of harbor waters.
3. A request to owners of harbor-front properties to tidy up their waterfront and wharves, and wherever possible to repaint or improve the appearance of their buildings.
4. Employment of a suitable vessel periodically for the removal to a beach for burning of old piles, planks and boxes and as much other flotsam of all kinds as possible.

The mayor suggested that if any of these items are beyond the present powers of the harbor committee, or if any require a money vote, the necessary recommendation be made by the committee to the council.

Mayor George referred back to remarks made in his three inaugural addresses in which he had expressed dissatisfaction with conditions along the waterfront, particularly the unkempt condition of much of the property.

Wife-beater Placed On Good Behavior

A husband who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of beating his wife—in official parlance, assault occasioning actual bodily harm—was dealt with severely by Magistrate Henry C. Hall when he appeared in court today for sentence.

In court Thursday the wife complained of bruises to her left arm and right upper leg suffered in the attack by her husband and intimated that this was only one of several times he had beaten her.

"You acted in a really brutal manner," said Magistrate Hall before passing sentence this morning. He got a reply in the affirmative from accused when he asked him if his actions were due to liquor.

The magistrate suspended sentence, but ordered the man to post a $250 bond for a period of six months, got a promise he would not drink liquor in that period and be of good behavior, especially to his wife. "If you don't live up to that agreement you will be brought before the court and the present charge reopened," Magistrate Hall warned.

A building permit has been issued to H. Smith to build a 5-room house at 1309 Finlayson Street, $4,000.

Judgment Reserved In Henderson Appeal On Death Penalty

Court of Appeal reserved judgment Thursday afternoon, following conclusion of the appeal of William Henderson, 17, convicted and sentenced to hang for the murder of Vancouver Police Constable Charles Boyes.

Henderson was originally sentenced to hang Aug. 27 but was granted a stay of execution until Oct. 1, pending the outcome of the appeal.

His counsel, John G. Gould, applied for a quashing of the conviction or failing that a new trial. He stated that Henderson's conduct on the False Creek Shoots in Vancouver, scene of a shooting affray in which Boyes, another constable and a gunman were killed was "definitive of a man not resisting anything."

"He was absolutely docile," Mr. Gould told the court. "Henderson surrendered to Boyes and Ledingham and had there been any scheme at that time, it would have been carried out when there were only two constables rather than three."

He asked the court to infer that Henderson's subsequent flight when the shooting began was a flight "made in a panic borne of the moment, when Harry Medos commenced to fire and Carter, the other gunman joined Medos in the unlawful enterprise."

Alfred Bull, K.C., counsel for the Crown in his submissions to the court, stressed the fact that the three, including Henderson, were heavily armed when they allegedly started out to rob a bank. When the attempt to rob the bank failed they abandoned their automobile but not their firearms, Mr. Bull said.

Statement Issued On Dispute Aboard Cruiser Ontario

Naval Service Headquarters has issued a statement on conditions aboard the Canadian cruiser Ontario.

The Ottawa 150-word statement confirms reports of dissatisfaction aboard the cruiser saying there has been an exchange of officers because of grievances of the crew. It does not name the officers concerned. It has been learned, however, Cmdr. J. V. Brock, Winnipeg, was replaced by Acting-Cmdr. P. D. Budge, D.S.C. Headquarters would not amplify its statement on a "report of crew dissatisfaction on board the cruiser."

Text of the statement was: "On Aug. 22, authorized seamen's representatives on board H.M.C.S. Ontario presented certain internal organized grievances to the commanding officer, Capt. J. C. Hibbard, D.S.C., R.C.N. These were investigated immediately by the commanding officer and later by the Commanding Officer, Pacific Coast.

"Necessary adjustments were made and as a result, it was considered advisable to advance an exchange in executive officers, which would normally have taken place toward the end of the year.

"The ship's commanding officer has specifically reported that the morale of the ship's company is most satisfactory.

"It should be made clear that the complaints and investigation followed the regular channels provided within the Royal Canadian Navy organization."

He was senior officer of the Canadian escort group which underwent 66 hours of continuous U-boat attack in September, 1941. He was decorated for his work in this action.

Council May Order Rubbish Removal

The City Council has the power to pass a by-law requiring owners or tenants of property to remove any accumulation of filth or rubbish of any kind, A. J. Patton, city solicitor, reported to today's city council meeting.

The report was the result of a request made by Mayor Percy George at the last City Council meeting, that something be done to abate the nuisance and possible fire menace of old woodlots within the city.

Mr. Patton also said in his report the municipality can do the removal and bill the owner for the reasonable cost of such work. There is no such nuisance by-law on the city books at present.

Regarding woodyards he reported that a permit must be obtained from the City council before any such dump can be established, and it is to be granted only on the recommendation of the lands commissioner, fire chief and building inspector.

Unlike other permits the council may refuse renewal, and at its discretion can rescind or cancel any permit at any time. The fire chief is charged with the duty of inspection, and no wood is to be within 10 feet of any wooden building.

Dr. Parfitt Named School Dentist

Dr. David Parfitt has been appointed dental assistant for the greater Victoria school system, John Gough, municipal inspector of schools, announced today.

Dr. Parfitt will assist Dr. Hugh Clarke, who has been carrying on school dental work for Victoria and Oak Bay. This is the first time that any phase of health work has been operated on a completely unified basis, he said. In the health field Esquimalt and Victoria schools are under the Union Health Board, Oak Bay and Saanich each having their own medical health officer.

Dr. Parfitt will concentrate on schools, with Dr. Clarke continuing with Victoria and Oak Bay. His services will mark a resumption of dental inspections in Saanich schools which was discontinued three years ago, and will be the first time dental work has been done in Esquimalt schools.

Warns Autoist On Attempt To Bribe

"That is a very serious charge—trying to bribe a policeman and a separate charge could be laid against you," admonished H. C. Hall in city police court this morning after a motorist had pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding and City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison had told the court the defendant had tried to "fix things" with the officer who apprehended so that no official action would be taken against him.

The constable refused to accept the bribe, charged the man and wrote on the back of the information the attempt at bribery. The motorist was only fined the usual $15, however.

Lectures, Public Meetings Mark United Nations Week Sunday

Great importance of the United Nations and its program for establishing a firm and lasting peace, will be brought to the attention of Victorians this coming week, when the Victoria Branch of the United Nations Association, will launch a campaign in conjunction with Observance of United Nations Week, starting Sunday.

"This special effort is an attempt to mobilize and establish a well-informed public opinion, with reference to certain great objects set forth in the charter of the United Nations," J. W. Gibson, president of the Victoria branch said.

He added that United Nations Week would mark the beginning of a program of public meetings and forums to run through the winter.

An appeal has been sent to clergy of all denominations throughout Victoria by Rev. William Hills, a member of the program committee, to include in their Sunday services, special prayers or sermons on the United Nations and world peace.

Council for Social Services on behalf of the Church of England in Saskatoon, Thursday, passed a resolution calling upon its clergy and people, under the leadership of their bishops, to observe United Nations week.

Court Refuses Plea For 'Floater'

Appeal for a "floater"—a police method of warning to persons to get out of town—by Martin Lonsdale, Vancouver, was refused by Magistrate H. C. Hall this morning in city police court when he pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge. After his jail record was read Magistrate Hall imposed a sentence of 30 days in jail.

The Kelly-Douglas new building at Herald and Store Streets will be officially opened Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6.30. Mayor Percy George and members of the City Council have been invited to attend.

Andrew Sheret, 76, Head Of Plumbing Firm, Passes Away

Andrew Sheret, president of Andrew Sheret Ltd. and a resident of Victoria since 1891, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital at 4.30 this morning in his 77th year.

Mr. Sheret was born in Montrose, Scotland, Dec. 24, 1870, and came to Victoria in 1891. A year later he began the business which is now Andrew Sheret Ltd., wholesale distributors of plumbing and heating supplies, with branches in Victoria and Vancouver.

On Jan. 1, 1900, he married Annie McDowell, Victoria-born and daughter of one of this city's pioneer families.

He was an enthusiastic golfer and was a member of the Uplands Golf Club, Royal Colwood Golf Club and Seniors' Northwest Golf Association until his failing health forced him to give up the game. He was a former director of the Uplands club.

He was a member of the Victoria Board of Trade for many years, and later the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. He was also a member of the Kiwanis Club, the Victoria-Columbia Lodge No. 1, A.F. and A.M. and Columbia Lodge No. 2, I.O.O.F.

In 1945 he was honored with a life membership in the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

Prior to World War II he traveled extensively with Mrs. Sheret, his trips taking him to such places as Australia, the Orient and Europe.

During the past seven years he has spent most of the time at his country home at Ardmore.

Ethel Barrymore Sees Self In Films

Ethel Barrymore, after an impressive number of movie successes, has finally gotten around to seeing herself on the screen. Currently co-starring with Peggy Cummins and Victor Mature in Twentieth Century-Fox's "Moss Rose," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre, Miss Barrymore was convinced by Producer Gene Markey that she should go to the movie.

"It will be a terrifying experience," she said. "I've never gone to any of my movies because, in the first place, I didn't care to subject myself to such punishment, and in the second, I didn't have the curiosity. I probably have missed some fine films."

Hollywood Watches Movie Produced On Small Budget

By HOWARD C. HEYN
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Even in this era of $3,000,000 movies, Hollywood has half a hundred independent producers who can whip together a full-length feature for $200,000.

Trouble is, these usually look like $100,000 pictures. The real trick, says Frank Wisbar, is to make them look like million-dollar productions.

Wisbar, a slim, ascetic man with an imaginative gleam in his dark eyes and a phenomenal capacity for hard work, demonstrated in Germany and again in Hollywood after 1939 that ingenuity is the best weapon against pyramiding production costs.

He showed me, as evidence, the rushes of his forthcoming production, a quickie only in the sense that it was filmed in 14 days on a rented sound stage.

The cash outlay was $165,000. Contingent expenses may run the total up to $200,000. He estimated that, under conventional studio methods, the same picture would have cost at least $500,000.

The original story, James Fenimore Cooper's "The Prairie," came from the public domain. That means screen rights were free. The cast cost was low except for two "name" players, Alan Baxter and Lenore Aubert.

OUTDOOR SCENES

"The Prairie" concerns the struggle of a band of American pioneers against the forces of nature and human instincts in their trek across the Nebraska flatlands 120 years ago. Wholly an outdoor picture, much of its appeal depends upon vast vistas and cloud effects. Yet every scene was shot inside a sound stage, where the longest distance was only 250 feet between diagonal corners.

Clouds were painted on small glass plates and projected by stereopticon against a backing 50 feet high. For mood effects the clouds were shifted or made lighter or darker by varying the intensity of lights behind the glass plates.

Said Wisbar: "If we have succeeded in producing a film that can stand on its own both artistically and financially, perhaps we will have helped point the way out of Hollywood's present economic dilemma."

CAPITAL THEATRE

Twenty-four professional croppers and dealers, brought to Hollywood from Las Vegas gambling houses, and 160 dress extras, peopled the lavish gambling casino in Columbia's thrilling modern melodrama, "Johnny O'Clock." The professionals operated roulette wheels, dice tables and chemin de fer layouts on the set, the most expensive constructed by the studio since the lifting of wartime restrictions. The film, now playing at the Capitol Theatre, co-stars Dick Powell and Evelyn Keyes.

YORK THEATRE

Stanley Holloway plays Albert Godby, station ticket collector, in Noel Coward's "Brief Encounter," now at the York Theatre. Albert Godby is the type of man you would expect to find collecting tickets from passengers at a small country station, and he has a way with him which appeals to all the travelers. He is not so successful in his aspirations towards the hand of Myrtle Bagot (Joyce Carey), who is the manageress of the station refreshment room, and Albert is inclined to be henpecked.

PLAZA THEATRE

"The Egg and I," showing at the Plaza Theatre, stars Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray. The supporting members of the cast who discharge their duties with distinction, include Louise Allbritton, a predatory divorcee; Richard Long as the only "untested" Kettle; Billy House, the ubiquitous peddler; Johnny Berkes and Vic Fotel as Goeduck and Crowbar, the Indians, and Donald MacBride, Samuel S. Hinds, Elizabeth Risdon, Esther Dale, Fuzzy Knight and Isabelle O'Madigan.

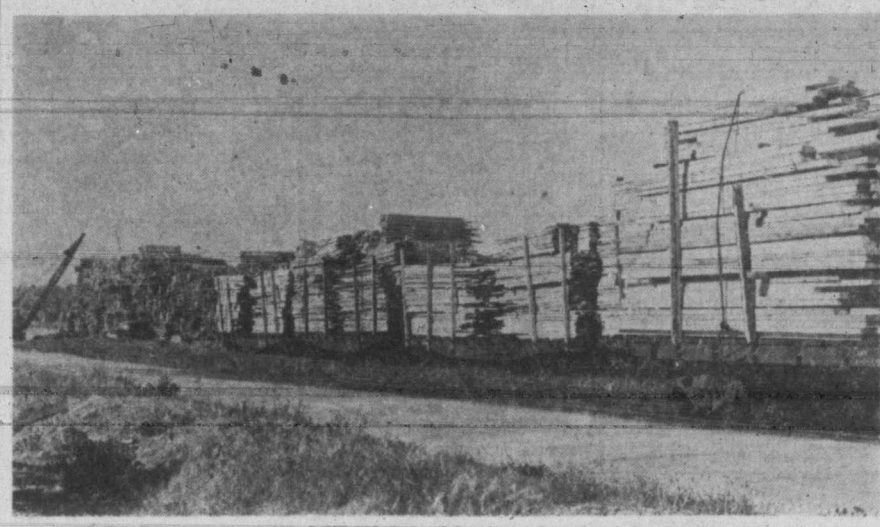

ROYAL THEATRE

"Welcome, Stranger," now showing at the Royal Theatre, stars Bing Crosby, Barry Fitzgerald and Joan Caulfield. Wanda Hendrix, Frank Faylen, Elizabeth Patterson, Robert Shayne, Larry Young and Percy Kilbride head the array of favorites in the supporting cast. Four brand new songs are sung by Bing.

ATLAS THEATRE

Alan Ladd and William Bendix set a Hollywood record with their fifth appearance together in Paramount's new murder-mystery, "Calcutta," currently at the Atlas Theatre. Gail Russell co-stars in the film with the hard-fighting twosome.

2,500,000 Feet Of Lumber Unloaded From Sampep

Piled on Ogden Point docks is the 2,500,000 feet of lumber taken from the fire-damaged Sampep, now discharging cargo in preparation for repairs. Cecil Ridout, manager of King Bros. Ltd., shipping agents, said the lumber would be held here pending shipment to the United Kingdom by the Sampep or another ship.

Trigger Has New Stable Companion

Recently one of Roy Rogers' fans who is a western rancher, presented the King of the Cowboys with a Shetland pony for Rogers' four-year-old daughter, Cheryl Darlene.

The pony, with the same coloring as Rogers' own horse Trigger, has the same stocking legs and blazed face as the amazing high school horse who shares the western star's fame. The pony was born on the same day as the Rogers' youngest daughter, Linda Lou!

The pony which Cheryl has named "Blondie," is kept at the Rogers' ranch with a stall next to Trigger.

Gospel 'Schooner' Arrives In Victoria

A portable gospel tabernacle, possibly the longest trailer to come over the Malahat will be on display tonight on Blanshard Street between Herald Street and Caledonia Avenue between 7 and 8.

The structure is most unique, being designed and built by Rev. Marshall Ruthven, and will be used in gospel work in the interior and northern sections of the province, the building when ready for traveling is eight feet wide and in an hour's time can be opened into an auditorium seating 80 people. There is also spacious living quarters for those in charge.

The "land schooner" has been sponsored by the B.C. District Christ's Ambassadors Y.P. Society of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, and a special service for the occasion will be held in Glad Tidings Tabernacle, North Park Street tonight at 8 when Rev. and Mrs. Ruthven will be in charge. The public is invited to attend.

A special permit has been secured from the local authorities for the placing of the tabernacle on Blanshard Street and the public is invited to inspect the building.

Tells Chamber Fish Industry Developing

A marked increase in the extent of the fishing industry in Victoria was reported by L. B. Bing to the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

In one tour around the city harbor, he said, he had counted 48 seine boats, and at his own company's wharf, J. H. Todd and Son Ltd., he had seen seiners this year lying as many as four deep.

Many fishermen were now doing outside fishing, going up by the Swiftsure Light area, he continued, and as a consequence, put back in here. The more these fishermen were encouraged, the better off Victoria would be, he said.

He also stressed the need of hurrying up completion of the fisherman's wharf to meet the increased number of fishing boats coming in here.

Auto Dealers Want New 'Purchasing' Deal

The Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association today released a copy of a letter sent to Police Chief J. A. McLellan.

The chief was reported to have said the auto dealers felt that servicing of vehicles should continue to be spread among the dealers.

The association states it referred to "purchasing" of new cars being spread among the distributors, not "servicing."

50,000 Musicians In Salvation Army Throughout World

Salvation Army bands throughout the world now have more than 50,000 members operating in 97 countries and colonies, according to Maj. C. J. Milley, public relations officer for Vancouver Island. Almost 85,000 songsters are listed by the Salvation Army, whose use of music as an integral part of its evangelical work is one of the distinguishing features of the organization.

"Not many people today know that the use of music to help preach the gospel was originated with General Booth, who founded the Salvation Army 80 years ago. The idea was suggested to William Booth as a result of an incident in Salisbury, England, in 1878. Salvationists appearing for the first time were roughly handled by the street rowdies," says Maj. Milley.

"William Fry, an itinerant builder, witnessed this scene and decided to help the Salvationists. He and his two sons played the cornet, his wife played the violin. The other Frys, hastily summoned, took their stand by the army and the mob was quickly quieted.

"When William Booth heard of this he asked the Frys to come to London. At his request, they formed the first evangelical band and toured England. The first corps was organized in 1879 and other followed. Brass bands had now become an integral part of the Salvation Army."

Wants Merchant Navy On Same Gratuities As 3 Armed Services

E. W. Carson, president of the Merchant Navy Veterans' Association, is now in Victoria seeking support of a petition to the Dominion government seeking equal status for merchant navy veterans with those of the three armed forces.

"We feel the merchant navy war veteran is entitled to receive the same rehabilitation and gratuity assistance as has been awarded to members in other fighting forces," Mr. Carson said.

Merchant navy seamen had performed a vital and faithful service during the war and had been exposed to hazards often as great as those to which men in the other forces had been exposed, and in many cases the merchant navy seaman had less protection, he said.

These war veterans had been disqualified from grants for housing and small land holdings, medical and dental care, insurance and all other government schemes for re-establishment of veterans of the army, navy and air force, he said.

The only piece of government legislation meriting attention was the one providing pensions for disability as a result of direct enemy action, he maintains.

Only about 30 of these pensions are now being paid out, he continued. "Do you suppose for one minute that out of the thousands of men whose ships were torpedoed and who spent hours and days in the ice-cold Atlantic and the North Sea, that only a few more than 30 men are deserving of a pension?" he asked.

Mr. Carson believes the merchant navy, which had 18,000 men serving during the war, suffered greater losses, in proportion, than any of the three other forces.

Ask B.C. Police To Make Wharf Check

A letter will be written to W. L. Stamford, agent for the Department of Transport, suggesting the B.C. police be used to keep a check on private craft using government wharves as permanent anchorage, it was decided at a meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors Thursday.

The suggestion is that rather than employ attendants to keep a check on the wharf, a twice-yearly check by B.C. police would be sufficient to see that the law was observed.

G. I. Warren, managing secretary of the chamber, added the suggestion that the situation might be helped if the signs, now practically extinct on the wharves, were placed showing the dock to be prohibited to permanent anchorage by private craft.

Chamber Protests Air Mail Service

The Victoria Chamber of Commerce board of directors Thursday afternoon appointed a special committee to study the new air mail service now in operation here.

George I. Warren, managing secretary of the chamber, pointed out the new service now meant that two of the incoming mails were too late for delivery.

The trans-Canada mail which used to arrive at 9 in the morning, in time for the 10 delivery, now arrives at 10.50, which means no delivery can be made until the afternoon.

The Seattle mail used to arrive at 12.25 in the afternoon. Under the new schedule, it arrives at 2.25, while the last afternoon mail delivery is made at 2.10.

Special Commerce Chamber Group To Study Proposed Business Tax

A special committee of the retail merchants' section of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be appointed to study the proposed business tax and bring in a report to the chamber's board of directors, it was decided at a meeting of the directors Thursday.

P. B. Scurrah, chairman of the section, who called a special meeting Thursday morning, said he believed it definitely looked as though the business tax would come into effect and he was also sure every trade license holder would have to pay three or four times as much under the tax as he does now.

He did not agree that the increased cost would be handed on to the purchaser. While it would be burdensome to the business men and reduce his net income, it would not be large enough to pass on to the public, he believed.

Although he voiced no opposition to the tax becoming mandatory, he did, however, oppose the suggestion it be made uniform throughout the province. This, he believed, would be inequitable because of the varying conditions in the various B.C. communities.

W. T. Straith, K.C., pointed out taxation methods varied in the different municipalities.

He suggested that, if the chamber wished to fight the uniformity move by the municipalities, it take the matter before the municipal committee rather than have a lone delegate from the chamber oppose it at the convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities in Harrison Hot Springs next week.

It was also decided that if the tax were to be introduced, the board should offer its aid and advice to the City Council in working out the details of the tax.

Holmes To Head Community Board

H. C. Holmes, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, was appointed to head a special Community Chest advisory committee of 25, at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors Thursday afternoon.

J. Denis Hagar, chairman of the Community Chest campaign board, asked that the committee be set up, representing local organizations and bodies. It was felt, he said, that the work of the Community Chest should be shared to a greater extent by organizations in the city. It was suggested, he added, that the committee meet twice a year.

To Seek Improved Ferry Service Here

The board of directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Thursday approved setting up a special committee to discuss with the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service officials the possibility of setting up improved communications between the Gulf Islands and Victoria.

H. C. Holmes, president of the chamber, said many people had moved to the Gulf Islands in order to obtain waterfront property which was rapidly being taken up here by people making their permanent residences along the shores.

Improved communications would not only benefit the Gulf Island residents but also benefit Victoria businesses, he said.
